Long-time Sheriff Slim Johnston Dies

Slim Johnston is dead. Lewis Samuel Johnston, sheriff of Randall County for the past two decades, died at 12:50 p.m. Monday in Neblett Hospital.

At the age of 65 he was a victim of lung cancer. During the months of his illness he faced death as he had life, calmly thinking of those about him. Sheriff Johnston took office Jan. 1, 1953 and lived to become one of the most esteemed peace officers in the Southwest. His exploits were not only the subject of state and national press but were also chronicled in the pages of the German equivalent to Life Magazine.

Slim Johnston numbered among his friends not only the great and powerful but also the downtrodden and weak. Most of the inmates of the jail he supervised learned to love this strapping 6-foot, 2 sheriff if they knew him for an extended length of time.

Slim was a special friend to the youngsters of his community.

He was soft spoken and compassionate but he could turn steel hard when the duties of his office demanded it.

This was illustrated early Christmas morning of 1960 when a message came through that Robert Potter, assistant chief of police at Tulia, had been murdered by three burglars and were headed toward Canyon chased by a Tulia nightwatchman.

The three thugs took to a rural road. Johnston blocked the road and was joined almost immediately by Deputy Ray Tinsley. The two officers ordered the escaped Indiana convicts out of their car as it screeched to a stop at the road block.

For a moment they hesitated and then the sight of the lawmen's two shotguns lined up on them was too much. They surrendered.

Slim was named citizen of the year by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce a little more than a month later and then was presented the six-gun award by The Globe-News as the area's outstanding peace officer.

Probably the peak of the sheriff's detective work began to unfold on St. Patrick's day in 1956 when two small boys found the body of Robert F. Chapman in a pile of brush at the roadside park just south of Canyon. The body had been slashed 32 times in a vicious killing.

The sheriff's probe went all the way to Phoenix, Ariz., before he finally got the description of a suspect and the license number of his automobile.

Clarence Edward Young, a giant of a man—6 foot, 6 and weighing 275 pounds—was arrested and eventually convicted of the killing.

Typically, Sheriff Johnston refused the $1,000 reward offered by the slain man's family.

Slim began his political career in 1946 when he was elected Randall County commissioner. He ran unsuccessfully for sheriff in 1948 and 1950 before defeat. (See SHERIFF, Page 5)

Workouts Continue For Eagles

Forty-eight boys braved the August heat this week on the Canyon Junior High field in preparation for those chilly nights this fall in Kimbrough Stadium.

Non-contact two-day football drills started Monday for hopefuls of the Canyon High School Eagles.

Contact drills begin Friday.

Even though training has just begun and Canyon's first game is three weeks away, Coach Ron Mills says his Eagles are enthusiastic and ready to play.

"Our kids are all in great shape and enthusiastic," Mills said following Tuesday's morning session.

Mills is concerned, though, about injuries.

"We have more hurt before the season this year than we had during the whole season last year," he said.

Quarterback Ed Lair is having foot trouble and is not expected to train or participate in a game for as much as four weeks.

Starting wingback Kenny Barton is out of play indefinitely with a leg injury which could require surgery.

Three other starters are plagued with minor injuries, but Mills expects them to be in good shape by the season opener on

Amarilloan Cliff Longest Named County Sheriff

Cliff Longest, veteran law enforcement officer with more than 20 years experience, was appointed Wednesday to fill the unexpired term of L.S. "Slim" Johnston who died Monday.

Longest has been an officer since joining the Amarillo police force as a beat patrolman in 1949. He went to work as a Randall County deputy under Sheriff Johnston in June of 1957.

He has been the sheriff's department representative in South Amarillo for 15 years. Longest lives with his wife, Doris, and daughter, Tonya, 8, at 4914 Leigh Street in South Amarillo.

The new sheriff said he would continue to maintain residence in Amarillo and would commute to the sheriff's office in Canyon. He said he plans no changes in the department and has not yet made up his mind who he will assign to South Amarillo.

While with the Amarillo Police Department Longest served in a number of capacities including major investigation officer, motorcycle sergeant and in the juvenile division.

Longest was appointed by a commissioners court made up of three Democrats and two Republicans.

Under questioning he said he is a Democrat.

"But I've got a brother who is a Republican," he added hastily. Longest is accredited as a peace officer by the state accrediting agency. He expressed a desire to attend FBI School at some time in the future.

Randall County Democratic Executive Committee will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse to select a candidate for sheriff to fill the position left vacant by Johnston. Those wishing to propose candidates are urged to attend.

Stadium Grass Growth Slowed

Canyon High and West Texas State football players may be taking some nasty falls this year in Kimbrough Stadium.

Grass which was planted in the bowl earlier this summer has sprouted, all right, but the bare spots aren't few and far between.

"It's still got almost a month to grow and the field may be covered by the time Canyon plays its first game," a Buffalo spokesman said. "But, it won't be a real good turf."

And, with only a passable turf by the time Canyon plays, the Buffs may have an even more barren field.

Three games are scheduled for the bowl before West Texas uses the stadium for a game against Colorado State on Sept. 23.

The Eagles meet Spearman on Sept. 8 and Borger on Sept. 15 in

The Eagles, less their padding and helmets, took to the field this week for two-a-day drills. The equipment goes on for contact drills Friday and the Eagles play their first scrimmage game next Friday in Friona. Season opener is Sept. 8 against Spearman in Kimbrough Stadium here.

Tax Hike Talked By School Board To Finance New CHS Dressing Rooms

By LINDA LOCKETT

Canyon School Board members listened to Superintendent Jerry Jacobs Tuesday night as he discussed raising the school tax rate five cents, to $1.70, which he said would bring in $31,000 more in funds.

This hike could be used to pay for an adequate athletic dressing room, which would cost a maximum of $70,000, and other special projects, said Jacobs.

The board will meet at 8:30 p.m. Aug. 29 to decide about the possible tax raise, to adopt an amended budget for 1971-72 and discuss a proposed budget for 1972-73.

Jacobs also discussed the recently proposed 300-acre development southwest of Amarillo in the Canyon School District.

"This appears to go along with what we thought would happen. The firms involved in the development seem to be serious," said Jacobs, who added his office had been contacted by one of the contractors.

Jacobs said he estimates a larger enrollment of about 50 students this fall.

Calling enrollment expectations "a guessing game at this point," Jacobs said one or more teachers may have to be hired. He estimated the total working budget for next school year at $2,554,508, with a $2 million increase in tax values.

After much discussion, board members voted unanimously to provide a teacher for the Village of Hope, a home for unwed pregnant girls.

Jacobs said that under Senate Bill 230, a teacher for the girls may be paid from state funds entirely, with one girl allowing one-sixth of a salary based on the state salary schedule. He added that a teacher's travel expenses will be paid by the Village of Hope and some bookkeeping time will be "donated" by his staff.

Jacobs said the home has had from one to three girls during the past year, and they were being taught through extension work from their home-town high schools and by volunteer area teachers.

None of the junior high and high school age girls have been from the Canyon School District, said Jacobs.

Wasps Eliminate Greenbugs Here

Randall County farmers' greenbug problems are over for this year, according to County Agent John Brazzil.

Brazzil said this week that nature has provided its own remedy for the greenbug problem which has been plaguing area grain sorghum growers for more than five years.

That remedy is a parasitic wasp which has wiped out greenbugs.

Brazzil said the parasitic wasp uses the greenbug as food in the larvae stage of development.

"The wasp lays an egg for a new cycle in the back of the greenbug," he said. "The egg becomes a larva which feeds on the greenbug and after four or five days kills the greenbug."

Brazzil said the parasitic wasps are "out there by the millions."

This year, he said, Randall County sorghum farmers "have had less trouble with the greenbug than they have had in the past."

Many farmers, in fact, have not even sprayed for the notorious bugs. In comparison, in past years spraying has become almost routine.

Wheatheart Of Nation

Miss Canyon In Contest

Julie Brantley, the reigning Miss Canyon, will vie with 34 contestants in the Wheatheart of the Nation Beauty Pageant to be held in Perryton at 8 p.m. Saturday at the high school auditorium.

Julie was officially entered in the beauty contest by the Canyon Study Club. She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Brantley, 2600 9th Ave., and will be a senior at Canyon High School next year.

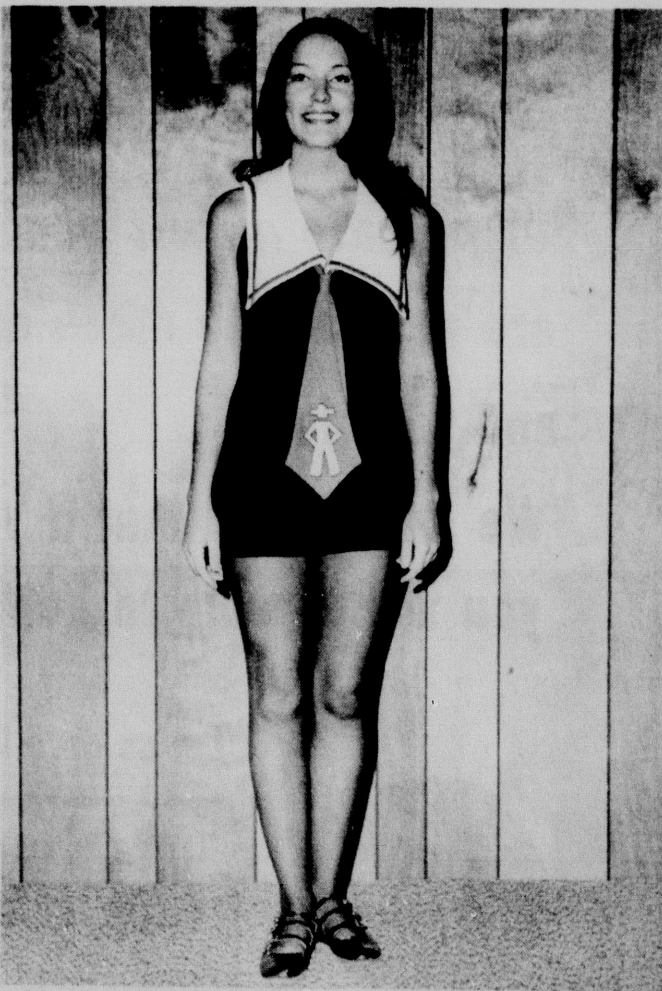

The 1972 winner of the beauty crown in the Miss Wheatheart of the Nation contest will receive a $1,000 college scholarship to the college of her choice. First runner-up will receive a $500 college scholarship, and second runner-up will receive a $250 college scholarship.

A full day's schedule of events has been planned for entrants in the Wheatheart contest, beginning with a Main Street parade during the morning. Each contestant will be expected to ride on a float or in a vehicle in swim suit.

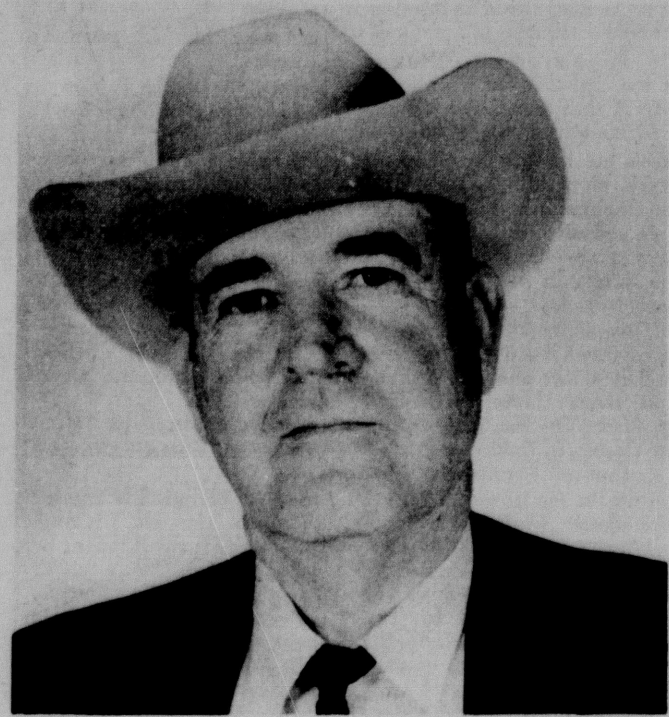

At 12:30 will be a lunch at the Perryton Club for judges, contestants and the Wheatheart of the Nation Committee.

Following lunch, the judging begins with individual interviews at the High School Auditorium. Voting for Miss Personality is also scheduled in the afternoon.

County Mourns Johnston Death

The flag flew at half-staff Tuesday above the county courthouse in Canyon.

Three blocks away, three preachers said their last words over Slim Johnston.

More than 600 mourners lined the aisles and stood outside the First United Methodist Church during services for Johnston.

The young and the old began arriving as early as 4 p.m. Tuesday to pay respects to Randall County's sheriff and their cars lined the streets around the church for blocks.

It was a solemn crowd, a crowd peppered with the uniforms of law enforcement officers.

Policemen came from Amarillo. Patrolmen and officers from the Texas Department of Public Safety came. And, Potter County sheriff's deputies. And West Texas State University security officers.

Attorneys, judges and newsmen filed into the church with farmers, ranchers and local businessmen.

It was a calm day and peaceful. The sun beat down on those who stood outside the church during the services.

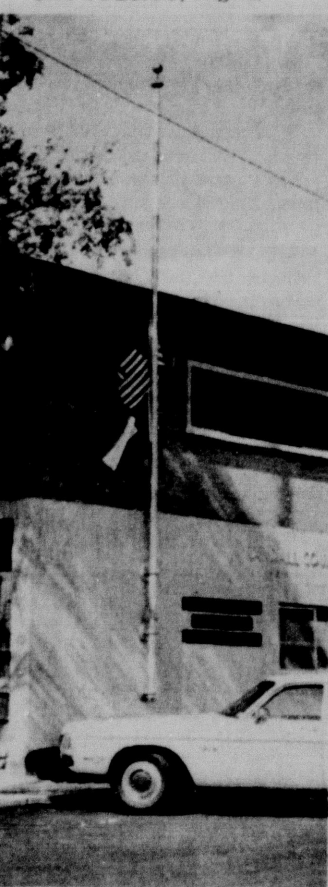

Inside, the Rev. J. Frank Peery, the Rev. Strauss Atkinson and the Rev. Newton Starnes quoted the Bible and talked about Slim.

Surrounded by flowers, the Rev. Mr. Peery recounted Slim's life, a life "filled with Christian service to the community."

He preceded his words of comfort to the family with vignettes from his own experiences with Slim.

Somebody Today," and a quartet of the Rev. Bill Foil, Bill Davis, Dr. Dudley Moore and Dr. Hugh Sanders sang "My Buddy," two songs the Rev. Mr. Peery (See COUNTY, Page 5)

The flag flying over Randall County Courthouse was at half-staff Tuesday in tribute to long-time Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston, who died Monday afternoon in Canyon. Funeral services were held Tuesday.

Retirement Head Denies Bias Charge

The director of the Texas Municipal Retirement System denied this week in a letter to City Manager George Louderer that the system discriminates against women.

Dean Gorham, system director, responded to a query sent by Louderer to the system concerning charges made last week by a female city employee that the system discriminates.

Gorham's letter states:

"This system does not 'discriminate' against women; however, it is a money purchase plan and we use the mortality experience. According to the latest tables, a woman is expected to live from five to six years longer than a man. We take this into consideration in the computation and naturally a man at a given age will receive more money than a woman at the same age but she is expected to draw the money over a greater period of time.

"I refer you to any of your local insurance agents who handle annuity plans and they will tell you that they use the same method of computation. In other words, if you and your wife happen to be the same age and you have, for example, $10,000 that you want to put aside for an annuity in an insurance plan, you would receive more monthly benefits upon retirement than your wife. To pay both of you the same amount would be discrimination against you."

Mrs. Marguerite Strain, a city employee 27 years, charged last week that she must work five years longer than a male employee to draw equal retirement benefits.

Mrs. Strain told The News she will file a class action complaint against the system with the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas.

Dr. Paula Latimer, president of the Texas Women's Equity Action League, told The News that the Dallas city government contended the same rationale as does the municipal retirement system during a recent controversy in that city.

Dr. Latimer said flatly that the Texas Municipal Retirement (See DENIES, Page 5)

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

I don't know about the district as a whole but I think Graham Purcell may be running a fraction ahead here at Canyon. Graham has campaigned hard here even to the extent of moving his family into Canyon Creek Apartments in Hunsley Hills for the duration.

Bob Price hasn't paid too much attention to Randall County since the first of the year but this may be because he thinks the county is in the bag. It went heavily for Nixon in 1968 and undoubtedly will go even heavier for the President this fall.

I talked to a knowledgeable editor Tuesday who thinks Price is running well ahead district wide at this point but he thinks Purcell may be closing the gap.

The presidential campaign promises to descend to levels we have seldom seen in American politics. There could even be violence.

McGovern himself boasted that he had brought the demonstrators of Chicago inside the convention hall at Miami. If you remember, the rumble in Chicago was planned and led by hard core members of Students for a Democratic Society bent on disrupting the American political process.

At the risk of sounding like a "right wing extremist" I must point out that the late J. Edgar Hoover called the SDS the youth corps of the American Communist party.

There was an unsuccessful attempt to organize an SDS chapter on the West Texas State University campus about three years ago. Bartee Haile, southwest traveler for the SDS who made the abortive attempt to form a WTSU chapter, was later wounded in a shootout with Houston police.

Campaigning alongside people like these is nothing new to George McGovern. He cut his political teeth on the Henry Wallace campaign in 1948.

Wallace was billed as the candidate of the Progressive Party but delegates to the party convention which nominated him included some of the most notorious Communist leaders in the US at that time. George McGovern was at that convention with them.

Communist Party USA endorsed the Henry Wallace platform. Josef Stalin hailed Henry

Wallace as one of the great statesmen of the century. Similar plaudits came from Red capitals around the globe.

Wallace pilloried US foreign policy at a time when we were eyeball to eyeball with Russia in Europe.

I could forgive the indiscretion of a McGovern 25 years old in 1948 were it not for the fact that much of his 1972 platform is simply a warmed over version of the Wallace platform of 24 years ago.

Wallace called on the US to surrender then and that is about what McGovern is asking us to do now.

Never once in the 1948 campaign did we hear Wallace criticize communist aggression. Neither have we heard George McGovern call on North Vietnam to withdraw their divisions from the south.

In the eyes of Wallace, the Reds were always right and the US always wrong. This seems to be the opinion McGovern holds today.

McGovern has shown himself to be a man willing to circumvent even his own rules if they do not serve his purpose. He violated his own set of principals to grab off all the delegates from California at the Miami convention.

On national television on the eve of that convention he told the world he would bolt the Democratic Party and become a third party candidate if he were under any circumstance denied the nomination.

This is not a blanket indictment of McGovern supporters by any means but the fact remains that McGovern's most vocal supporters HAVE repeatedly demonstrated their willingness to take to the streets in unbridled violence when unable to attain their goals through due process.

***

We may be witnessing the demise of the Democratic Party as we have known it. I don't see how the Kennedys and Connallys can ever work together again. The schism is too deep to heal.

Ramsey Clark is scheduled to testify before the Kennedy Committee on his recent trip to Vietnam.

You can expect Clark to use it as a platform to further vilify the United States.

Documents Can Be Fun

Are you interested in the U.S. census of 1850, or maybe Civil War records for both the North and the South? How about foreign economic trends, or just tracing your family tree?

All of this and much more is just a small part of the services available through the West Texas State University Library to persons living in the Texas Panhandle.

The documents department of the library is designated as a selective depository. This means it is eligible to select general items, such as hearings and commission reports, for deposit but not all available government publications.

The collection now includes approximately 470,000 items, says Mrs. Annette Cook, temporarily in charge of the documents section.

Faculty and students in government, history, economics, geology, business, education, agriculture, biology and military science are the principal on-campus users of government publication, she says.

But public organizations and businesses use the publications as well. Pantex, Veterans' Hospital, Amarillo Public Library, Southwestern Public Service, individuals working on books or articles, and businessmen from Canyon, Amarillo and Hereford find the publications in the documents department helpful, Mrs. Cook says.

Some of the heavily used series in the collection are the Statistical Abstracts, 1789-present; census publications, complete since 1850; Occupational Outlook Handbooks; Supreme Court reports; Tax Court and Board of Tax Appeal publications; Geological Survey bulletins; special commission and committee reports; official Army and Navy records of the Civil War; messages and papers of the presidents; and federal and state laws.

Individuals with unusual hobbies may find the department useful. If one wants to trace his family tree, he can get much information from the census materials, she says.

Students writing a thesis often turn to the documents department for original sources of information.

Use of the documents has increased each year. During the 1970-71 academic year, 15,985 publications were checked out which is an increase of 9,891 over the previous year, Mrs. Cook says. During the 1971-72 school year, 20,000 items were checked out.

All of the series are complete except where material is still classified and not yet made public information.

Pro Morris Climbs High

(NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of articles on former West Texas State University athletes in professional football.)

Eugene "Mercury" Morris set three NCAA rushing records at West Texas State University and the 190-pound speedster is now climbing up the ladder among the professionals as a kickoff returner.

Morris is entering his fourth season with the Miami Dolphins and has ranked among the league's leaders in kickoff returns each year.

The former Pittsburgh, Pa., athlete returned 43 kickoffs for 1,136 yards to lead the league in both departments during his rookie season of 1969. In three years he has returned 86 kickoffs 2,371 yards for an average of 27.6 yards per return. He has scored one touchdown on a kickoff return in each of his three seasons.

Morris set three national rushing records his senior year, only to see two of them broken that same year and the other fell the following season.

The "Mercury Man" rushed for 340 yards against Montana State, only to have Michigan's Ron Johnson exceed that mark with a 344-yard effort later in the year. He ended that year with 1,571 yards, but Southern California's O.J. Simpson broke that mark a week later.

Morris' three-year varsity total of 3,387 in regular season games was a national career mark until Steve Owens of Oklahoma broke it in 1970.

With the Miami Dolphins, Morris has excelled as a kickoff man, but sees action when the team needs outside running speed. He rushed for 110 yards in 1969, 409 in 1970 and 315 last season for the team which reached the Super Bowl.

The 25-year-old Morris has won many friends since he moved to Miami. During his rookie season he wrote an occasional guest column in one of the Miami papers.

This past year he has done television commercials for several clothing stores in Miami and had a radio sports show.

Morris is married and has one son.

Purcell Records Johnston Eulogy

While the citizens of Randall County mourn the death of Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston, the record of his accomplishments and contributions to the Panhandle of Texas drew special recognition today from U.S. Rep. Graham Purcell in the House of Representatives.

In a speech inserted in the Congressional Record, Purcell hailed "Slim" Johnston as "...a man tall in stature, who stood even taller in the eyes of the people he served. Although his integrity and devotion to duty earned him respect and admiration, it was Sheriff Johnston's compassion blended with firm authority which made him a sheriff whose fame spread nationwide," Purcell said.

"Slim" Johnston was able to accomplish what others have only aspired towards," Purcell continued. "He left the world a better place for his having been here."

Moore Gets Commission

Philip L. Moore, 2107 Sixth Ave., was commissioned an Army second lieutenant, July 28, upon completion of six weeks of ROTC advanced summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Li. Moore has been enrolled in the ROTC program at West Texas State University, and the summer camp called for practical application of his classroom work. He is a 1966 graduate of Breckenridge High School.

Rotary Club Members Hear Bell's Wickerham

Using raw elements of science to develop the most modern telecommunications services in the world was the theme of a program presented by Southwestern Bell Science Demonstrator Roy Wickerham to the Canyon Rotary Club at their noon meeting Tuesday.

The program, entitled "From Beryllium to Vanadium, by Way of Krypton," features telephone innovations developed by Bell System scientists and engineers.

Wickerham told the group that Bell System scientists are in the process of developing an instrument which will make it possible for motion-handicapped persons to dial their own telephone calls.

"We call it a voice controlled dialer, and it responds to verbal orders," he said. "A handicapped person will be able to dial his own calls by simply speaking a phone number into the instrument."

Wickerham added that Bell Scientists are making significant progress exploring the field of solar energy.

"The solar cell is a product of research by Bell Laboratories scientists," he said. "Twenty years ago it was merely a dream. Today, solar cells operate communications space satellites circling the earth, and someday they may even power automobiles."

Wickerham said the Bell System utilizes 97 of the 104 known elements to manufacture telephone equipment and provide service.

"We're always looking for a better way of providing telephone service," he said. "Whether it's planning for the future or making sure today's phones work better, Bell System research and development will continue to play key roles in communications innovations."

Mike Patrick, Southwestern Bell manager for Canyon, explained that Wickerham travels the western half of Texas demonstrating Bell System innovations. "His 14 years of technical experience and his periodic visits to Bell Laboratories make him well qualified to discuss what's happening in Bell System technology today," Patrick said.

Mrs. Bennett Funeral Set

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Horne Bennett, 86, of 2001 9th Ave., will be at 11 a.m. Friday at LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

The Rev. J. Frank Peery of Canyon First United Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Dreamland Cemetery.

Mrs. Bennett died at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday at LaCasa Convalescent Home.

A member of First United Methodist Church, Mrs. Bennett moved to Canyon from Amarillo in 1943. She was born in Woodbury, Tex., and married Walter Willis Bennett in 1910 in Bard, N.M.

Mrs. Bennett's husband died in 1965 and her son Robert Stewart Bennett died in 1960.

Survivors are a son, Eugene Willis of the home, and a brother, Horace Horne of Logan, N.M.

Police Chief Warns Drivers

Police Chief Al Stewart urged motorists this week to be more alert on Canyon's streets since local schools begin Monday.

"Children sometimes forget to look both ways before they cross busy streets," Stewart said. "The driver must be extremely careful as he drives in areas near schools."

Stewart noted that two children were struck by cars last school year.

WTSU Senior New City Clerk

Bob Moore, 22, a West Texas State University senior, has assumed duties as city clerk.

Moore replaces Glenn Metcalf, who resigned recently to become city manager at Abernathy.

A native of Coleman, Moore joined the city staff last week and gained some experience riding with Canyon policemen.

Moore has been a city employee in the water department for two years while he pursues his degree at WTSU.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wilson hosted a backyard party Tuesday evening honoring Miss Shelley Woodburn of Amarillo and her fiancée, Dr. Sam Lippincott of Morgantown, W.Va.

Among those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Crossland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodburn, David Woodburn, John Sanderson, Miss Anna Georgantonis, Miss Pam Fenlaw, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson. Out-of-town guests included Phillip Brown of New York and Miss Wendy Niles of California.

WTSU Linebackers Young, But Long In Experience

(Note: This is part of a series on West Texas State University's football prospects for the 1972 season—LINEBACKERS.)

Willis Haws carries over a B grade average at West Texas State University and it didn't take him but two days of standing on the sidelines, injured, to realize one strong fact.

Haws, who transferred to West Texas from Mesa Junior College in Arizona in the spring of 1971, started over half of the games last fall at an outside linebacker position. He injured a knee early in spring drills.

Haws, a 216-pounder from Eagar, Arizona, limped into the training room during the middle of practice of his second day on the injury list and confronted trainer, Lynn Laird.

"We've got to do something to this knee because all of those guys out there are getting ahead of me," he moaned. Haws was correct that the players on the field made a great deal of progress, but he was unable to get ready, physically, to play until the end of spring drills.

As a result of Haws' injury, little Weaver ended spring drills as the starting weak side linebacker. Weaver, who is too little and too slow to play major college football, but doesn't know it, is only 6-foot and 174 pounds. Like Bruce Davis, the middle linebacker, he was recruited off the Odessa football roster.

At the end of spring drills, all four of the top linebackers were sophomores. While Davis managed to edge veteran Joe Brock for the starting berth at the middle linebacker post and Weaver was in front of the injured Haws, two players ended in a near tie for the other outside linebacker slot. They are David Herber of Amarillo Tascosa and Sunray's Steve Rogers.

Herber, who teamed with Weaver in one live contact drill about 10 days prior to the end of spring drills to collide with starting fullback Billy Pritchett and put him on the injured list, earned all-state honors for coach John McGuire at Tascosa High. Rogers started on the varsity as a freshman at Colorado Western State College, but transferred to West Texas State last fall and sat out a year to regain his eligibility.

Completing the linebacking group are sophomores Kurt Kinsinger of Liberal, Kansas, and Alton Cranford of Oklahoma City and squadman Bobby Hobbs of Elk City, Oklahoma.

System is illegal. "The Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972 explicitly details what is meant by 'sex discrimination' and it says in black and white you can't have a different retirement system (for men and women)," she said.

Dr. Latimer said she recognized the reasoning behind the percentage differences in computing retirement pay, but that new equal opportunity guidelines prohibit such discrimination against women in retirement systems.

Randall County's retirement system, which is under the Texas County and District Retirement System, shows similar dual benefit features for men and women.

ternoon. The Wheatheart of the Nation Pageant at 8 p.m. will involve judging in both swim suit and formal attire. Girls will be rated on beauty, personality, poise, and figure.

The contest for Miss Wheatheart of the Nation is one of the outstanding beauty pageants in the Southwest and the selection of the Miss Wheatheart of the Nation has been a highlight of the Panhandle since its beginning in 1947.

tax money to provide a teacher for non-residents, but of course, I feel like everyone deserves education," Jacobs said.

After School Board President Dudley Moore said the idea was like "the little red schoolhouse," Jacobs said that the Canyon schools' homebound program is the same way and was serving up to seven girls out for sickness and pregnancy last school year.

In other business, board members unanimously approved a financial report and accounts payable.

They then awarded meat and potato bids for the fall semester to the low bidder in each category, with the stipulation that contracts would be based on service and quality.

The bidding specifications provided that the food must be state inspected and approved by Canyon Schools.

All Amarillo firms, San Jacinto received two contracts, Artic Foods nine contracts and Swift and Company, one award. A Lubbock firm, White Swan was ing the late M.E. Cantrell in 1962.

Since that time he has not had an opponent. He was on the ballot alone in the May primary and was named Democratic candidate for sheriff. Republicans did not field a candidate.

"It would just have been a waste of time," one Republican remarked.

Sheriff Johnston was born in Burleson Nov. 20, 1906. He was married to Miss Flossie Hale, his childhood sweetheart, Nov. 23, 1924 and moved to Happy in 1927.

Slim had made the wheat harvest in this area and liked the way farming was done on the high plains.

The young family pulled up "stakes" at Eskota, 10 miles east of Sweetwater, where Slim had been working on a ranch training polo ponies.

He rented a 40-foot boxcar for $150 for the trip and brought most of his worldly possessions along. Slim recounted that he had a box lunch for the trip and drank fresh milk from the family cow.

Mrs. Johnston, their son, Lewell, and Slim's sister, Mrs. W.W. McElmurry, made the trip in a 1925 Model "T" automobile. The family settled on a farm 8 miles east of Happy in Randall County.

It was a short time later while he was helping on a threshing crew on the George "Farmer" Schaeffer farm that the new arrival got his nickname.

Farmer Schaeffer referred to him as "that old slim boy over there." The name stuck. "Everybody called me Slim after that," the sheriff remembered.

Farming wasn't the way to make the most sumptuous living in the world then and Slim worked at the smelter in Amarillo on occasion.

Things got better in the 1940s. The Johnstons made some good crops and in 1947 moved into Canyon. The family home is at 2402 Eleventh Avenue.

Even after entering public life, Slim continued farming and his love for horses remained with him until his death.

He raised Quarter Horses and Apaloosa stock.

Sheriff Johnston served a sparsely populated rural area when he first took office. He saw the area mushroom into the fastest growing county in the state.

When he took the oath for the first time he had two deputies. The department has expanded to a dozen who served their boss with a fierce loyalty.

Deputy Tinsley, Cliff Longest, Crosby Hammons, Anna May Meyers and Merle Strickland each has a tenure of 14 years or more.

"He was a great friend," commented Tinsley.

"He was the best boss I ever saw," Longest added. "He always asked. He never com-

Commissioners cancelled out the main agenda of their regular meeting Monday after hearing of Sheriff Johnston's death.

The court adopted a resolution commending sheriff's deputies for "doing such an excellent job during his illness."

sections' encroachment within the extra-territorial jurisdiction of Amarillo.

And, that was the basic point of discussion at Monday's meeting.

"We thought that extra-territorial jurisdiction was a straight line," Prati said. "The map shows a curved line."

Prati indicated incorporation backers will have to do further study.

It was revealed in mid-May that the six sections extends about a mile into Amarillo's extra-territorial jurisdiction. It does not encroach on Canyon's.

Prati said he told Stiff and Louder that the incorporation is for the purpose of providing a zoning authority for that area of the county. The six sections included in the proposed incorporation begins one mile south of McCormick Road and ends at Palo Duro Club Road. The area is two miles wide, one mile on either side of the Canyon Expressway.

"What we're concerned about is that we might have the same situation they have in Lubbock," Prati said. "At least we'd like to be in control so if we do decide to be we could keep it out in our area."

Prati said last spring the people in the area proposed for incorporation "are capable of chartering our own course without the help of either the city of Amarillo or the city of Canyon."

In early June, Prati and two other residents backing the incorporation wrote an irate letter to mayors of Canyon and Amarillo and the county judge. The letter blasted county commissioners and city commissioners for what it termed critical comments about the incorporation.

said embodied the spirit of Slim's life.

In less than 40 minutes, the service was over and hundreds of cars joined the funeral procession to Memory Gardens Cemetery in Amarillo to say a last good-bye to Slim Johnston.

Sept. 8. Mills said his team returned from the summer months in good physical condition.

He is probably most impressed with Bill Moore, who is slated to start this fall at the quarterback position.

"Bill is ahead of any quarterback I've ever had at this time of year," Mills said. "He's just a tremendous player."

The coach said Moore will play easily from the four basic sets which Canyon will run this year.

"He's a good passer," Mills said. "He can throw the ball 65 or 70 yards well."

The head coach was also impressed with initial showings of his backfield lineup of Gary Gerber, Matt Hansen and Wayne Todd.

But, he admits he still faces some problems.

"Depth is a problem all the way through," Mills said. "Inexperience of the Canyon team will also be a problem. His biggest problem, though, is his schedule.

The Eagles face five AAAA teams this year and some of the toughest in the AAA.

"Spearman is the most underrated team in the district," Mills said. "It has 10 starters back and will probably win their district."

In addition, the Eagles must face Borger, Caprock, Hereford, Pampa and Palo Duro in non-conference action.

Conference games are set against Levelland, Dumas, Perryton and Muleshoe.

The Eagles' first scrimmage will be next Friday against Roswell Goddard in Friona. The junior varsity scrimmage is expected to begin about 6:30 p.m. with varsity action following.

Season opener is against Spearman on Sept. 8 in Kimbrough Stadium in Canyon.

Things Happen At Wrong Time

There is a universal law which states that if something goes wrong, it will go wrong at the most inopportune moment.

Kay Henderson, co-owner of Tweedle Dee children's store here, saw the law in action last week as the store prepared for its grand opening.

On the day before the grand opening, the owners discovered they were out of certain clothing styles in certain sizes.

Mrs. Henderson decided to fly in a private plane to the clothing factory in Lamesa and John Teer of Canyon volunteered to pilot the plane.

Bright and early last Friday, the two arrived at Trudewind Airport only to find that even if they took off from Amarillo, they couldn't land downstate because of bad weather.

The day wore on and finally they got into the air about 9:30 a.m.

Just past Lubbock, Teer and Mrs. Henderson ran into foul weather, so they returned to Lubbock and landed.

"At Lubbock, they showed us on radar the front," Mrs. Henderson said. "It was clear all the way to Canada and the coast except for this little patch downstate."

Teer and Mrs. Henderson decided to try again and they left Lubbock at 1 p.m. for Lamesa.

"It started raining and black clouds were approaching us," Mrs. Henderson said. "Jack said he didn't think we should try to go."

And then, the two discovered they were lost.

Through breaking clouds, Teer saw below a town.

"He said he thought it was Brownfield," she said. "He told me to look on the water tower as he circled."

Mrs. Henderson couldn't read the tower and they circled again.

"It was Lamesa," she said. "There we were thinking we were lost and we were right over Lamesa."

Before 5 p.m., Mrs. Henderson was back in Canyon—too late for the first day of their grand opening but in plenty of time for the other two days.

Fowlkes Host 35 Foreign Students On Tour

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GREETINGS: THE MULHERIN FAMILY enjoyed spending a few days in Red River this past week. Guy and Marty devoted their time and attention to catching and eating fish and contend that their talent played the major role in producing their fine catch. The rest of the family, namely yours truly and Kaki, feel that pure luck took the starring role rather than talent. Kaki fulfilled the role of Equestrienne with enthusiasm, while momma Mulherin knitted, dried wild flowers and studied cloud formations. Just when we were getting accustomed to this trying existence, it was time to come back to civilization and six foot tall johnson grass. Alas!

THE HERB MCGREGOR family managed to sneak in a week of vacation fun recently on Mustang Island, which is up the coast from Padre Island in the Corpus Bay Area. Vondan didn't desert civilization entirely though, what with air conditioning, a dishwasher and maid service coming with their apartment. Not only that, when Herb took the cooking chores, the family ate out. (Now, that's a vacation!) Sherri and Danny caught crabs and let them go (too ugly to eat), and the family really enjoyed riding rafts in the ocean waters. After getting in some rest and relaxation, the McGregors headed home to a busier life style. As many of you know, Vondan is now serving as Elementary Curriculum Coordinator for the Canyon Schools. She will office at Rex Reeves, where she will spend three days a week; and will devote those other two days each week to Gene Howe School.

A BELATED HAPPY birthday to Mr. Robert Fowlkes, who celebrated on the 11th. HAPPY ANNIVERSARY TO Archie and Margaret Davis on the 15th. Daughter Clair recently entertained friends with an annual slumber party. Guests were Kim Wallace, Sherrie O'Dell, Rene Mester, Jennie Dollous, Glenna Evans, Jennifer Engler and Darlene Rowland. These young ladies had a good time with some summer time fun time.

MR. WENDELL TRAMMELL shared his birthday fun and barbecue dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Adren Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks. The Trammell children and the Robinson children entertained the other generation with an impromptu rodeo, featuring bucking calves.

JAY MORRISON, SON of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Morrison, is the lucky young man treated to a week of fishing in Durango, Colorado, by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller. Friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gross were somewhat surprised to read about their son "Jay Gross," simply because the Grosses have a lovely daughter. This reporting error is credited solely to yours truly. This is not the first mistake your writer has made and probably will not be the last—but, bear in mind that my heart is in the right place even if my mind isn't. Anyway, Jay is still the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Morrison and Jay Morrison earned and enjoyed that fishing trip, and we wish him well in his football career next year.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Mr. Bobby Aduddell, whose family helped him celebrate on the 11th. VONDEAN MCGREGOR, GAY Cochran and Gloria Taylor served as hostesses for a party held in the McGregor home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawless. Last year's faculty at Gene Howe met Mr. L's charming bride and presented the couple a lovely wedding gift, a set of Corning Ware dishes—white with an avocado band.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY TO Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates on the 18th. CHARLIE FOWLKES'

CHAIRMANSHIP of the YWCA World Service Organization has definitely enriched his family's life as well as the lives of many, many young people. An open house held Tuesday night at the Fowlkes' home served as a get-acquainted affair for a tour group of approximately 35 young students from various parts of the world. Joan and Charlie have had students from Iran, France, Germany, Ecuador, Brazil, Denmark and other parts of our old world visiting and staying in their home for periods of time varying from a few days to a year. Joan serves as a co-ordinator for the International Student Service. The most recent tour group saw "TEXAS," attended the Junior Quarter Horse National Championship Finals, visited Palo Duro Canyon and the museum in Canyon, toured feedlots and also toured some of the office buildings in Amarillo. The exchanging of ideas and information with these foreign students is quite an experience, and anyone interested in sharing their homes can give Joan a call—sounds like an excellent opportunity to broaden our horizons.

A VERY SPECIAL happy birthday to Kaki Mulherin, who has given her mommy and daddy ten very happy years as of the 15th.

WHILST ALL YOU people are registering your youngsters for school this lovely day, be sure and join your Parent Teacher Association. Dues for the year are one little ol' dollar per parent, and will be one of the best-spent dollars you part with. The only string connected to your dollar is that the PTA wants you as an active member, too. All moneys raised by the PTA goes back into the school for the betterment of our children. Money ain't everything tho, and as mentioned before, the PTA wants you and wants to help you become involved with your school and your community. Try it—you'll like it!

WONDER IF ANYONE will oversleep and forget to send the kiddies you-know-where on Monday, August 21? Just think—this time next week, we will all be back on that old familiar (and in some quarters—welcomed) schedule.

GAY AND HOWARD Cochran and children, Howie and Laura, joined the McGregors for that fun time on Mustang Island and then motored to Matamoros, Mexico. While there they visited the old markets as well as the new markets and especially enjoyed dining at one particular restaurant resplendent with that Old Mexico atmosphere and Spanish singers visiting their table. On to Wichita Falls for a wedding and visiting with friends. After visiting Howard's mother in Oklahoma, the Cochrans returned home to entertain house guests. Dr. and Mrs. Bryce Cochran and children of Midwest City, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. James Callahan of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Shannon Bilbo and daughter, Debbie, of Norman, Oklahoma; and Gayle Harris and children of the Cochran homestead for a week-end of fun and conversing. They particularly enjoyed seeing "TEXAS" and treated the youngsters to a day of discovering Palo Duro Canyon, complete with picnic.

MRS. COCHRAN, WHO has been teaching a third grade class at Gene Howe, is anxious and eager to begin instructing the L/LD classes this year. The L/LD program will cover all six grades for the first time.

NEW SECRETARY AT Gene Howe is a lovely lady by the name of Nancy Hoover. Becky Daum, who so ably filled this position the past few years, has moved to California. We wish Becky well in her new endeavors and extend a warm welcome to Mrs. Hoover. Glad to have you aboard.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall and your calls. 352-6053 Troyce

Senior Tours Europe Under 'Aggie' Alias

By LINDA LOCKETT

With the English his favorite people, Paris his favorite city and St. Peter's Cathedral his favorite building, Mike Rinehart, Canyon senior, arrived home from Europe recently full of memories.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rinehart of 5161 Arden Road in Amarillo, Mike toured Europe in a group of 50 through the Foreign Study League.

Earning the nickname "Aggie" from a Texas A&M sweat-shirt he wore during his travels, Mike attended classes on comparative culture and language for half the day and then had time to mingle with the people and go on guided tours.

Mike told his mother who visited Europe three summers ago that his travels were more interesting because of his opportunities to get away from the "tourist traps" and talk to the common people.

While the English people, especially the young, were his favorites, Mike was not impressed with the Germans.

Mike said some Germans are starting a new Nazi party, and some of the old members are proud of their party affiliation.

"The English love Americans—our voices and our sizes," said Mike, who is 6-foot-2 and was too big for the largest size English sweater.

After beginning in Pittsburgh, Penn., Mike's first stop in Europe was Spain, where he visited Madrid and Toledo.

From there he traveled to Italy, where he bought his most treasured memento from the trip—a marble bust of David by Gabrielli, a sculptor over 90-years-old.

"When I saw it, I knew I had to have it," said Mike about the bust, which is supposed to be one of three Gabrielli masterpieces. Another David bust is in a Lisbon museum, and the place of the other is unknown.

Mike later had the bust appraised by a man who marveled at the exactness of Gabrielli's work in copying the original David. Mike said the wrinkles are in perfect symmetrical scale, and the throat blood vessel is said to have been very difficult to sculpture in the particular type of marble.

Unlike the other two sculptures, Mike's is set on a separate piece of marble, making it unique.

Mike saw the damaged Pieta, which was curtained off. He said men were working 24 hours a day to try to repair the statue, but the work is difficult because it is hard to match the marble.

About the Sistine Chapel, Mike said, "They are retouching the ceiling. They say they are just cleaning it, but really they are redoing it."

In Rome Mike saw part of the 90 miles of catacombs, and "they're finding more every day," he said. Mike also attended "Aida" at the original ruins of Nero's castle, which reminded him of the outdoor "TEXAS" amphitheater.

Taking a sidetrip to Florence, Mike saw more catacombs and Renaissance castles.

In Austria Mike's group stayed in an isolated castle, the one used in the Warner Brother's movie, "Where Eagles Dare."

Built in 1044, the castle could only be reached by a cable car, which Warner Brothers built to cover the sheer incline of 2300 feet.

Mike said each castle bedroom was a large separate vault with walls covered by tapestries. The bed he slept in was made about 1300.

Near Werfen, the castle was a two-mile hike from Mike's classes and was 10 miles from Hitler's old house in the Bavarian Alps.

With an instructor who was a mountain-climber, Mike climbed the Waterhorn in Germany, but did not attempt the steep incline to the Austrian castle.

In France, Mike got to attend church services in Notre Dame, with which he was very impressed.

Although he got sick and spent three days in bed, Paris was Mike's favorite city. One of his vivid memories is of a full moon straight above the Seine River, as he was going on a boat ride in Paris.

Mike ate at two of the most well-known world restaurants in Paris. Laughing about the 16 courses that took about 3 hours to eat, Mike said he did not even know what he was eating.

One startling sight in Paris was a completely nude model posing at the Place de Concorde, said Mike.

Talking about the Folies Bergere in Paris, Mike said each girl's dress cost about $3000 and at the end of an act one girl came out whose beaded train covered the entire stage.

Mike crossed the English Channel in a hovercraft, one of four in the world, in the worst weather they had had in 15 years. The hovercraft, which skims the water, hit a log, and they had to go back to France before they finally made it to Dover, England.

England, being the last country he visited, was fresh in Mike's memory. He told about the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace when a soldier "stomped" a man picking up his camera. Mike explained the man was in the line of march, and the elite soldiers can be court-marshalled for stepping out of line.

They are also not allowed to talk, but one whispered to Mike and his friends as they wondered about his rifle aloud, not thinking he would answer.

Mike stayed at Surrey University dormitories in Gifford and toured Windsor Castle, Stonehenge and Stratford-on-Avon.

Mike thought Stratford was "very commercialized" and added that Shakespeare must have been small, as the top of the doors in his house only came to Mike's chin.

Mike saw Henry VIII's wives' clothing, which were beaded in jewels and some of those of Henry, who wore clothes for one week and then threw them away, said Mike.

In London, Mike rode the subway, saw the "freaks" at Piccadilly Circus, shopped for clothes on King's Road, toured the National Gallery and went to the famous wax museum, where famous murderers and other people appear lifelike in wax.

At Drury Lane Theater, Mike saw "Gone with the Wind," with Harvey Presnell playing Rhett Butler.

Mike said the London and Paris theaters try to out-do each other, so that a real train came onto the stage in "Gone with the Wind."

Though not on the tourguide, Mike also saw nude women protesting in front of 10 Downing Street, the Prime Minister's residence.

Mike is planning to return to Europe next summer as a counselor along with Mrs. Jane Westberry. Canyon High English teacher, who helped him plan his trip this summer.

Mike's mother said one of the first things Mike said when he got home was that he wanted to redecorate his room. "Things just don't look as good here, after seeing Europe," Mike explained.

After visiting Rome, Paris, Vienna and London, how can a Texas Panhandle boy find happiness back home? In Mike's case, it's by planning another trip for next summer.

Canyon High senior, Michael Rinehart, just returned from a six-week European trip, holds a marble bust of David by an Italian sculptor, Gabrielli. The bust is one of three masterpieces by the nonagenarian. One bust is in a Lisbon museum, and the whereabouts of the other is unknown.

Sherman Acres News Riders Host Grad Students

By MARY JO GRIFFEN

HELLO AGAIN FROM our way. This has undoubtedly been the shortest summer vacation ever recorded. We've certainly enjoyed it and would love to have another month before school starts. But here we go back to school today. We do look forward to a good year with eager students and our great teaching faculty. Seems we have news from all over this week. Thanks for all the calls and we are happy to include you in our area.

LAST WEEK GUESTS in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Brashers were Charlene's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis and Sandra from Canadian. Returning to Canadian with the Davises were Cynthia, Carla, and Lisa Brashers. They visited several days and their parents brought them home later in the week.

MRS. PAUL NAGUNST from Canyon Drive in south Amarillo called to tell me the most delightful news from their household. Their daughter, Sandy, was the winner Saturday night of the 20 gallon fish aquarium given away in the Western Plaza Mall. They really could use it since their old one was kinda out of sorts and this one is such a nice, pretty one. Mrs. Nagunst was also in the winning circle Saturday! We met during The News subscription contest last spring.

ANOTHER COUPLE I met during the contest is Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Angel of Rockwell Road. They returned Friday night from a great five-weeks vacation to Alaska and back by way of the U.S. west coast. They traveled over 8,000 miles by auto and more than 1,000 by boat. The scenery was the most outstanding to them. The mountains and ice glaciers were simply beautiful. And they were just a few miles from an earthquake; close enough to feel the earth move under them. Also while they were there a sister of Mrs. Angel's, Mrs. Bess Johnston, passed away in Houston where she made her home. Mrs. Johnston had been a resident of the Amarillo area for a number of years. Our sincere sympathy to the Angel family.

A LITTLE NOTE of cheer to Joseph Puccio who is ill with pneumonia. We hope Jody has a speedy recovery.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MARY Neal Henry and family from Happy on getting moved into their new home. May all your days there be happy ones.

MR. AND MRS. Bert Roanhaus are vacationing in California. They will be visiting with Bert's family and will attend the wedding of a brother while there. Sightseeing is on the schedule for them too.

SYMPATHY IS EXTENDED to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Simpson in the death of Gene's brother, Mr. Earl Simpson of Hale County.

DON AND JEARENE Cartwright and children, Tiffany, Bryan, and Leslie were in the Dallas-Fort Worth area last week. They visited with relatives on both sides of the family and with friends. Also they went to Six Flags and the Wax Museum. They got home with time to rest a bit before returning to work. Their new house is looking real nice and getting closer to completion every day. Lots of eager anticipation there to get to move in.

AL AND WILMA Tune and children, Pam, Tommy, Al, and Ingrid of Fort Worth were here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.K. Smiley and sister Elaine last weekend. They were enroute to Red River, New Mexico to spend the week and will be back by this way later this week and will visit in the Smiley home again. The Smiley's drove down to Plainview Sunday afternoon to see Mrs. Smiley's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Stockton from Breckenridge who was visiting with her daughter there. Also they spent the night with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nicky Smiley.

GUESTS IN THE home of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Stark and family Saturday were R.A.'s sister, Mrs. Eileen Anglin and children, Kelly and Kevin from Gunnison, Utah. They went on to Tulia to visit their mother and then to Silverton where a sister lives. Sheila Stark went with them and will return later this week when they come back for a longer visit.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO-

MORROW August 18 to Susan Puccio, August 19 to Brent Leith, and August 21 to Shawn Tankersley. Have a great day!

VICKIE OWEN OF Lake Charles, Louisiana, was an overnight guest of Pat Keith last week. The Owen family formerly lived in this area.

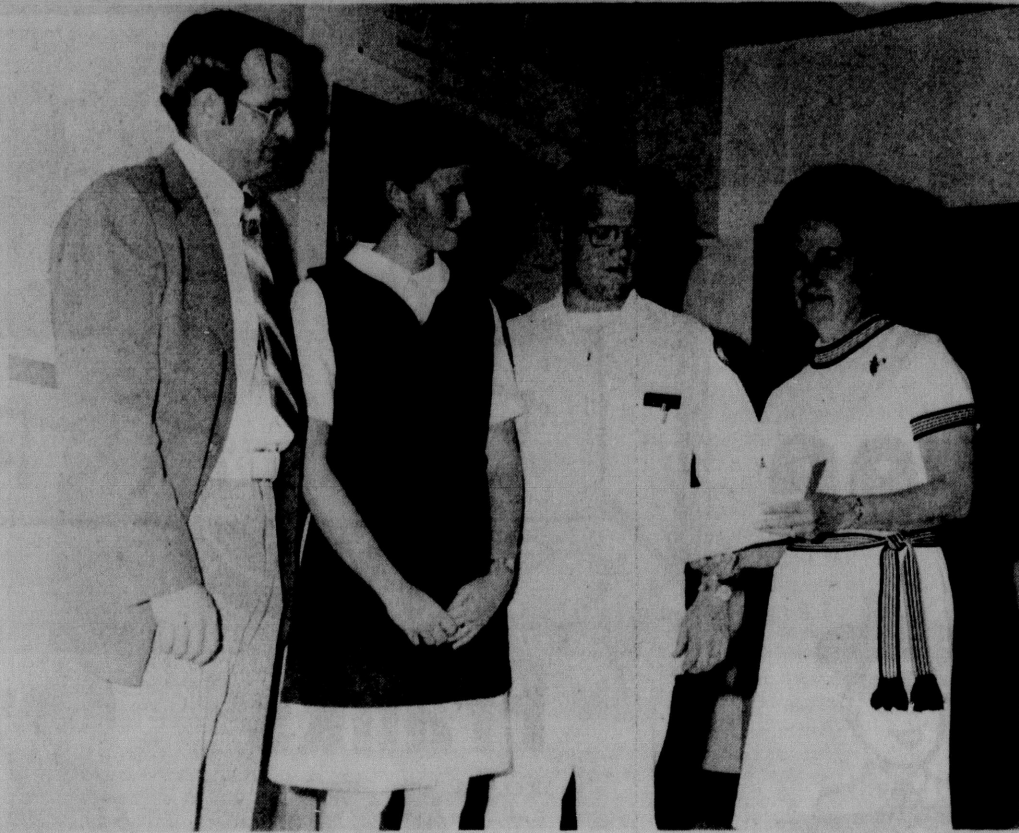

DR. AND MRS. John Rider had a little get together honoring the graduate students of Dr. Rider from the summer school session. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mays, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brewster, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carter all of Amarillo. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Norris and Kim of Plainview, Lila Williams of Big Springs, Tim Hutson of Texarkana, Ark., and Connie Hildebrand from San Antonio. Dr. and Mrs. Alfonso Lucero and sons Steven, Andrew, and Matthew from Johnson City, Tenn., were overnight guests of the Riders.

AUSTIN AND PATSY Bowes and daughters Lynn and Ann have recently returned from their vacation. They made a circle through the southern states along the coast touring New Orleans and on to Disneyworld in Florida. They had a nice stay at Fernadina Beach, Fla., where they did a lot of fishing. Austin went deep sea fishing. Georgia, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma were all viewed with delight on the way home. They had a great trip. This Saturday Lynn goes to Lubbock to move into the dorm and start her freshman year at Texas Tech. Good luck Lynn.

A WOMAN WENT to the office of the local paper and said she would like to put a notice in about her husband's disappearance. "How much will it cost?" she asked. "We charge fifty cents an inch," the editor said. "Oh, I can't afford that kind of money," said the woman. "My husband is six feet tall!"

THANKS TO MY typist this week.

Reduced Tillage Urged Here

Three years ago, "minimum tillage" hardly existed in Randall County farmers' vocabularies. And, nowhere in the county was it practiced.

Today more than a thousand acres of land here have been subjected to less of the plow.

And, the local Soil Conservation Service would like to see more acreage planted under minimum tillage tenets.

Don Dolle of the SCS urged farmers to become acquainted with the advantages of minimum tillage and to implement the practice on their farms.

He anticipates almost 2,000 acres of farmland to be worked this year through minimum tillage.

"Economics and conservation demands of recent years have prompted many efforts to reduce or eliminate tillage," Dolle said. "Refinements in chemical herbicides during the past decade, along with the development of no-tillage planting equipment have removed the major barriers that have tied tillage to the farming scene for centuries."

Dolle said there are many advantages to the minimum tillage method of farming.

"It saves time," he said. "More acres can be planted during an optimum time interval."

In addition, it lowers production costs by substantially reducing labor and machinery costs. Minimum tillage helps control water erosion and reduces wind erosion since more residues are left on the soil surface.

Minimum tillage also conserves soil moisture since tillage stirs up moisture and causes evaporation.

"Research has shown that minimum tillage can improve soil tilty, reduce compaction, lower the bulk density and resistance to root penetration, increase water infiltration and improve aeration," Dolle said. "The added cover provides a more attractive shelter for wildlife to nest and reproduce."

Dolle said several area farmers, including R.D. Friemel, Willie Wieck, J.W. Spencer and Fred Begert, are using some minimum tillage on their farms.

News Brief

Four students from Canyon have been initiated into Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology, with active membership in the West Texas State University Chapter.

They are Phyllis A. Goettsch, 19 Country Club Drive; Mary Jaynet Killebrew, 2707 Sixth Avenue; Dan R. Pavillard, 2405-B Seventh Avenue; and Kevan M. Prati, Route 2.

Wearing crisp new uniforms and bright smiles, four junior student nurses enter Neblett Hospital to survey some of the work they will be doing as part of their training at WTSU.

Permits Hit $218,385 For July

Building permits issued by the city during July soared 100 per cent over the same period last year, according to figures released by building inspector E.A. Collier.

A total of $218,000 in construction was tallied in the permits, a rise of almost $100,000 over last year's total of $122,875.

Building permits in 1970 tallied only $25,075.

The bulk of the increase noted in July's records was recorded by Apostolic Faith Outreach, Inc., which began construction on a Bible education building at a cost of $155,500.

Three residence construction projects were also recorded in July. Two will cost $23,000 and one will be $15,000.

Several remodelings and storage building constructions were also reported.

News Brief

WT Nursing Program Moves Into High Gear

By JUNE DAYEN

The new Baccalaureate Program in Nursing at West Texas State University is ready to shift into high gear when the fall semester begins on Sept. 5. The funds are there, the facilities are there, and the know-how is there.

Still needed to complete the program are the 343 students expected to enroll in the program at fall registration. Eighteen sophomore students had already been enrolled in the course this summer, but by September that figure is expected to swell to 100 freshmen, 75 sophomores, 18 juniors, and 150 registered nurses working part-time and full-time to complete degree requirements.

By 1975 the total enrollment is projected to reach 500. And not a moment too soon to help answer growing demands for nurses with the baccalaureate degree. According to the best available statistics, the number of nurses graduating with degrees must be increased five times over the 1966 totals to meet 1975 goals.

One of the problems, then, of administrators in charge will be to produce more nurses without sacrificing the standards set for entry and graduation in the field.

Major decisions in getting the complex program rolling smoothly are being made by Mrs. Eunice M. King, now head of the Nursing Department at West Texas State University. She came highly qualified by her position as Director of Nursing for the Amarillo Hospital District and office as president of the State Board of Nursing Examiners for the last two years.

Mrs. King stresses the importance of personal requirements for young men and women entering the nursing field. They must have strong motivation to help along with qualities of good health and impeccable physical appearance—an image that will be enhanced, incidentally, by the crisp maroon and white uniforms they will wear as student nurses in the WT program. Alertness, intelligence, good judgment, and sense of responsibility are also necessary.

But some financial assistance is available for those qualified who face difficulty in paying the bill for their education. Scholarship funds amounting to $20,455 and student loan funds of $16,978 have been awarded WTSU by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. In addition, the 62nd Texas Legislature provided $20,000 for tuition scholarships for nursing students at WTSU. These funds are allotted through the Financial Aid Department at the university.

The program itself operates under an HEW grant of $558,716, of which $129,744 will be available this year. Moreover, Capitation Grant funds have been awarded in the amount of $25,442 for 1972. These are special grants authorized under the Nurse Training Act of 1971, and allocated on the basis of student enrollment to improve nursing programs.

Students will attend nursing classes on the third floor of the Old Administration Building on the WTSU campus, but clinical facilities and in some cases libraries will be used at various area hospitals and treatment centers. Among those cooperating are Neblett Hospital in Canyon, Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital and the Psychiatric Pavilion, High Plains Baptist Hospital, St. Anthony's Hospital, Veterans Administration Hospital, Kilgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, and the Amarillo State Center for Human Development.

All the facts add up to an impressive answer to the mounting demands for more and better nurses springing from many sources. The much publicized population explosion—a 35 percent growth in the last 18 years—is a primary factor. Another reason is the fact that people are living longer—the nation now has 20 million persons over 65. And, thanks to health and hospital insurance plans and government-sponsored health programs, people take better care of themselves and expect better facilities.

Booster Club Sets Meeting

Canyon's West Texas State University Buffalo Booster Club will have its first meeting of the season on Sept. 14 in the coffee room of the First National Bank.

David West, who will head up the club, said meeting time for the boosters has been changed to Thursday nights this year.

"This year, Coach (Gene) Mayfield will be able to go into his game plan for the coming game," West said.

He also said films will be shown of each week's previous and future opponent.

West said current members of the WTSU Buffalo Club are automatically members of the Booster Club. He invited others to join the Boosters by paying a $10 fee.

Crossing Lady Hired By City

Mrs. Merl Fay Brock, 2412 15th Ave., has been hired as new school crossing helper at 10th Avenue and 23rd Street in Canyon.

Mrs. Brock will aid school children walking to Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Wiecks Hold Fifth Reunion

BY SUSAN DOLLE

LAST SUNDAY THE family of the late Louis and Mary Wieck, early-day settlers of the Umbarger Community, held their fifth annual reunion in Knights of Columbus Hall in Umbarger. All seven sons and daughters, husbands and wives came: Herbert and Josephine Friemel, Hereford; Norbert and Elizabeth Skypala, Hereford; Alfred and Clara Reinart, Dumas; Edward and Armella Wieck, John and Edna Wieck, Joe and Ola Wieck, and Louie and Mary Wieck, all of Umbarger. Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Westhoff attended, she being a sister of the late Mrs. Wieck. The Reverend Haines, who has served as pastor at St. Mary's Church during Msgr.

Schafle's vacation, was a guest. GRAND-CHILDREN AND great-grandchildren from Dumas, Hereford, Dalhart, Stratford, Sunray, Amarillo and Canyon came to enjoy the picnic dinner and an afternoon of fellowship. Eighty-six relatives attended.

MR. AND MRS. A.H. (Snook-ey) Lindemann were honored Saturday evening with a twenty-fifth anniversary celebration given by their daughters Susan, Shirley, and Sharon. Relatives, neighbors, and close friends were invited to a reception held in the family's home. They were served anniversary cake and punch from a table which featured a fall arrangement of roses and a silver candelabra given by the daughters as an anniversary gift. Mrs. Jack Brandt was also a member of the house party.

MR. AND MRS. Lindemann were married August 12, 1947 and have resided in Umbarger since that time. She is the former Odessa Scruggs.

THE UMBARGER COMMUNITY Association Garage Sale held last Saturday can be termed a great success. The Board of Directors issued this week a note of thanks to all who helped make the event a success. Projects for the fall were planned this week by the board; members will be informed of activities at the next meeting of the association.

PRESENT AT THE wedding of Sam Haschke of the Umbarger community and Terry Warren of Hereford last Saturday were Willie Haschke and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Haschke and two sons of Cedar Rapids, Nebraska.

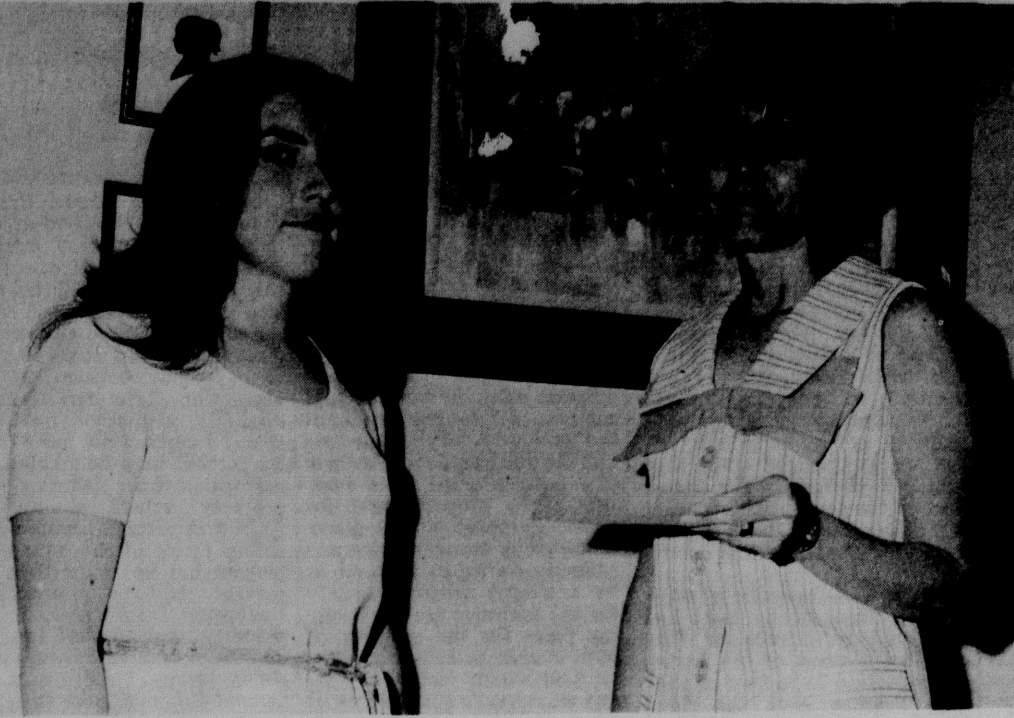

VISITING IN THE Alvin Friemel home this past week have been Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Haeberle of Sacramento, Calif., and their four-year-old daughter Debbie. Mrs. Haeberle is the Friemel's daughter.

SPEC. 4TH CHARLES Arndt visited in the home of the Richard E. Friemel's last weekend. The nephew of Mrs. Friemel, he is stationed at Ft. Hood.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Beckman and children were in Umbarger too, staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckman. Richard practices law in Houston.

AND FROM AUSTIN came Gertrude Rosen, daughter of Mrs. Emma Brandt. During the week Mrs. Rosen also visited with her daughter, Mrs. Joe Albracht of Bushland.

PISTOLS AND PETTICOATS Square Dancing club will dance this Sunday evening at Buffalo Lake at 7:30. A covered dish supper will be held at 6:30 on the west boat ramp. The dance will be called by Herrick Allen.

Dr. Sue Park, treasurer of the Canyon division of the American Association of University Women, presents a gift of $75 to Miss Barbara Dickerson, who will be a junior this fall in nursing at WTSU. A committee headed by Mrs. Maxine Sherrod chose to make AAUW's annual community service gift a scholarship gift this year.

Palisades Palaver Bridge Nears Completion

BY VICKI HOOKER

IF ANY OF you think you are not spoiled by our pleasant Panhandle weather, then go to Dallas for a few days. It didn't take me very long to decide that we definitely have the advantage — weatherwise. When we drove in Tuesday afternoon it was 100 degrees and it finally cooled off to 80 degrees that night! But all in all we had a very good time with our four Junior Volunteers from Northwest Texas Hospital at their sixth annual state convention and picked up a few new ideas for our own organization, but it was good to get home again!

BY THE WAY, if you are interested in volunteering in volunteer days or after school this fall, we'd love to have you. Contact Mrs. Ruth Bryan at 376-4431 ext. 221. Ladies, that goes for you, too!

EXCITEMENT FILLED THE pollution-free air of our canyon last week as two young ladies from the Palisades were married. Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Johnson, and Sam Richard were united on the fifth in the Memorial Park Rose Garden. After a honeymoon in Colorado they returned to their home in Amarillo. Many congratulations to the happy couple and to both their parents!

MR. AND MRS. Paul McDonald's daughter, Caprice, and Rick Cook tied the knot on the tenth in Amarillo. A reception at the McDonald's followed. Caprice and Rick traveled to Little Rock, Arkansas, to see Rick's family. They, too, will live in Amarillo. We wish these newlyweds all the happiness possible, too!

WE'D LIKE to express a note of sympathy to Lum and Lena Edwards. Their granddaughter's husband, Jackson Taylor, 23, died August 6 in a motorcycle accident in Georgia. The motorcycle he was riding struck the guard rail on an expressway and he was killed instantly.

SOME OF YOU may remember the Edwards' granddaughter, Gay. She and her child lived with Lum and Lena several years ago. She had only been in Georgia with her husband one week when to accident occurred. She is in the process of moving back to Texas now. Gay is the daughter of Gloria Lane of Lubbock. (Mrs. Lane is the Edwards' daughter.)

THE PRECINCT 1 Volunteer Fire Department met last week in the Lake Tanglewood Clubhouse. Topics of discussion were training sessions, fund raising projects, a building for the truck and a social for the members and their families. No details on any of these subjects were available, but I think these men should be commended for the work they've done so far. It's comforting to think that at least we have some protection in case of fire.

I GUESS Mr. and Mrs. Eddi Jeffers and their two children finally got moved to their new home in Washburn. Mrs. Jeffers did not call, but I saw the U-Haul trailers, etc. there last Sunday. We certainly hated to see them go and hope our new neighbors will be as friendly as the Jeffers!

SPEAKING OF NEIGHBORS who have moved, Irene Parker called the other day to say they haven't forgotten us! She and Jack are presently enjoying the company of their daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. R.H. Miller and their daughter Mary Mike, from Omaha. They are here to attend the wedding of their other daughter, Terry Lee, who will be married the 25th. Their visit turned out to be a small family reunion as they were joined at the Parker's by their daughter-in-law from Roswell, Mrs. David Miller and her two-month-old son, David Jr. The Parkers boast David Jr. is their only great grandchild!

IRENE ALSO SAID in talking with her that Roberta Carthel went into the hospital last Sunday complaining of pains above her right hip. Tests were run for kidney infection but were negative. The day Irene called she said Roberta was feeling better, even though they had found nothing wrong at the time, and that by the time the paper came out she may be home again. We certainly hope so anyway!

JARRIEL AND NELL Moore had guests last week. They were Nell's niece and her husband, Ellen and Ronnie Mattingly and their sons Ronnie and Richard, from Kentucky. Ronnie Sr., who is a native Kentuckian, was under the impression that the Texas Panhandle was all flat until he came to the Palisades! The Mattingly's also took a tour of Palo Duro Canyon and enjoyed a visit to the Canyon Museum.

LAST WEEKEND WAS set as "Work Days," and much was accomplished during the two days. The men got the Northside bridge ready to be concreted and welded guard rails onto it. Hopefully by the time the paper comes out, or at least by this Sunday, it will be completed so the school bus can drive across it.

SCHOOL! Now that's an interesting subject! I can hardly believe it's that time again, but I'm sure I'm not by myself in feeling that way! But there will be one who will not be returning this fall. And that's Timmy Dustman.

TIMMY IS STILL at St. Anthony's Hospital in traction after breaking his leg in a motorcycle accident nearly a month ago. Hopefully next week he will be put in a body cast so that he can come home. He'll be out of school the first six weeks, but I'm sure it will be a relief to Roma just to have him home.

WHEN I TALKED to him he seemed to be in good spirits, and not upset about having to miss school. When asked if he gets bored, he replied, "Nope! I have just about everything there is to do!" And I'm quite certain that's right! But anyway, it was good to know the little fella is recovering so well after such a bad break, and that he will be home soon.

ONE LAST NOTE: If you have seen Michelle and Renelle Walker lately you may not have known who you were looking at. Last week they got their hair cut in a "shag," and they look like little dolls! Renelle was quite upset by it all, but let me say to you girls that even though you may look different on the outside, you are still the same sweet, lovable little ladies on the inside.

KIDS — Approach your first week in school with a smile for all and I guarantee you it will go much better! See you next week!

Lake Tanglewood News WE ARE VERY glad to report that Mr. Jim Thomas returned from Houston feeling just fine after having undergone heart surgery.

AS FOR other news, well it just isn't! Sorry, Dr. Robinson! No one seems interested enough to turn in any news, and Mrs. Van Doran simply doesn't have the time to call each one of you and find out what you are doing.

SO UNTIL SOME interest is shown, we will discontinue Lake Tanglewood News.

M-I-L Club Has Picnic

The Palo Duro Mothers-In-Law Club met Friday, August 11, at 6 p.m. for their annual picnic in the back yard of the home of Mrs. Jewel Crawford, 1206 8th Ave. Twelve members and five guests were present.

The club yearbooks were passed out and announcement was made of a salad luncheon to be held Sept. 8 at the home of Mrs. M.J. Noel. Co-hostess will be Mrs. J.L. Hildgenfield.

Marty And Flying Pattie Win

By TOOTIE BYBEE HELLO AGAIN FROM out this way. Hope everything is just great with you all. It has been quite a week for me. Of course, it was all fun and joy.

HAD A LONG nice chat with our friend and neighbor Jo Ann Mitchell the other day. Guess you all know she has been out of commission since breaking her foot. Well, glad to say the cast is off and she's really taking advantage of the situation of being able to get around a little bit again. She said daughter number one, Debbie, and husband had moved to LaFayette, La. They flew down on the plane and then settled in. Seems Debbie's husband has a good job and good prospects there. They have traveled over to New Orleans and taken in the sights and all since being there.

good job and good prospects there. They have traveled over to New Orleans and taken in the sights and all since being there.

THE WHITEHEADSWENT on a little trip this Friday. They motored over to Ft. Worth to visit with some old and good friends. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hail, who recently moved there, Mike said they all lived in the Hail's pool while there as it was quite hot and humid. They went to the river and rode the river boats and paddle boats. While there Mike Hail turned twelve and they went to the Pizza Parlor to celebrate his birthday. Shelley and Beth enjoyed each other's company also. They came back Sunday, and Monday morning Spooky left with his grandmother and grandfather Whitehead to travel

Cheerleaders Win Awards

West Texas State University cheerleaders received seven honors at the recent Southern Methodist University Cheerleading Clinic in Dallas.

The WTSU squad, in competition with other major colleges and universities in the South and Southwest, won the Coca-Cola Award, sponsored by the National Cheerleaders Association and the soft drink company. It was the first time that WTSU won the award.

Films of the WTSU cheerleaders and other district winners will be sent to the Coca-Cola company for national judging. The winning school will get an award for cheerleading equipment.

The WTSU cheerleaders also won the Spirit Stick twice and brought the trophy home. The competing teams were judged each day on two yell. In this competition WTSU won four superior ribbons and one excellent. Cheerleaders for 1972-73 are Orinda Eikman of Childress, Terri Roark of Vega, Carolyn Roney of El Paso, Jane VanDever of Sweetwater, Chris Gerald and Greg Tung, both of Canyon, and John Jenkins and Stan Raef, both of Amarillo.

to Tinker Field Air Force Base at Oklahoma City. They are going to tour all points of interest and be on their way back in time for school registration.

SCHOOL, WHAT'S THAT?? HAVE TO TELL you about our little trip. The Tow's and Bybee's scooted down to Mills Canyon in New Mexico for a few days of motorcycling and fun. We camped out under the "Big Top" and had so very much fun. We were a dirty grimy bunch when we returned, but very happy with the world. Nothing like complete exhaustion to make you appreciate the world around you and go to sleep in peace. Thanks to my sweet sister-in-law for taking care of our doggies while we were away.

THOSE QUARTER HORSE kids have been at it again. At Perryton Sunday Marty Johnson out-showed them all. In an especially large number of exhibitors she really got with it. She won 1st in all age mares, 1st in Showmanship, 3rd in Western Pleasure, 3rd in Horsemanship, 4th in reining and won all around saddle. Most important she won her Youth Champion AQHA, which really proves what I've always said, Marty is really a champion teen ager. Steve Ross placed in the top ten mares with his two year old. Wanted to give Marty's horse some credit as I know she is really some horse. Her name is Flying Pattie and she is only 4 years old and a real "Champ."

GEE, I KNOW this is so short but we just got back Monday night and this has to be in Tuesday at noon so I'm so very rushed for time I haven't had to much time to talk with any of you. So, call and I'll sure get it in next week.

ONE LAST WORD: To all the kiddies in Mescalero Park: It has been a great summer and lots of fun for you all. Long lazy days of sun and fun. Now get in there and make that school year the best of your whole life. See ya in school.

Cruelty To Animals Seen Around Canyon

The Canyon High School band struck up a march during practice sessions this week on the campus. Band students begin their school early every year to practice.

By LINDA LOCKETT
A woman's cat is shot in the leg.
Another woman's puppy is shot twice at close range in the paw, and her cat disappears the same day.
And another woman's two cats are caught in a trap, and one is killed.
A mourning dove is found shot and fluttering helplessly on a busy street.
How do these circumstances relate? All have happened recently in and around Canyon.
One of the women, whose neighbor's pets have also been hurt and killed, wonders, "What pleasure does someone get out of harming a defenseless animal? I guess someone is just taking out his frustrations vicariously on animals."
She then cites the recent incidents of cows being driven into a barn and burned in Dalhart and boxer puppies tarred in Amarillo.
And she mentions about 15 meadowlarks, which help her garden, being found in a ditch "riddled with BB pellets."

"This is another sign of our violent times today," she declares.
The woman whose cats were trapped expresses shock at other people's disrespect for private property. "Because a man did not want cats on his property, he baited a trap with sardines, so they would come to his yard; and then he took them out in the country to kill them."
She said when she talked to the cat-napper, he did not seem to care that one of the cats was very smart and "looked after" her five-year-old son. The only thing that seemed to bother him, she said, was when she told him he broke a law.
According to Article 1374 of the Texas Penal Code, it is unlawful to kill or needlessly mutilate an animal. Also, it is unlawful to willfully overdrive, overload, overwork, torture, torment, unnecessarily or cruelly beat, deprive of necessary sustenance, cruelly abandon or carry in or upon any vehicle in a cruel or inhumane manner any animal.
An offender may be fined up to $200.

For income-producing animals, such as horses, cattle, mules, asses, sheep, swine and goats, the fine for needlessly killing or poisoning is 2-10 years in the penitentiary if the animal was worth more than $50, 2 years and/or a fine up to $500 if the animal was worth under $50 and more than $5 and a fine not exceeding $500 if the animal was worth under $5.
Those charged with violating Article 1374 will appear in a Justice of the Peace Court or a Corporation Court in Amarillo.
If someone sees a person breaking the law concerning animals, he may file against that person.
M.W. Buckles, head of the Amarillo animal shelter, said that law enforcement officers could take action themselves, but are usually reluctant to do so.
Mary Morin with the Amarillo Humane Society said that only the one who sees an animal being mistreated can file suit.
Buckles warned anyone considering filing against a person who does not leave enough water and food for an animal not to feed the animal themselves. "If you're watching and then feed the animal yourself, you've just ruined your case," he said.
If juveniles are involved in mistreating animals, the situation becomes stickier, and parents may be talked to or juvenile authorities called in.
Dr. J.L. Markham, Canyon veterinarian and animal shelter director, said the problem of cruelty to animals is "perturbing." He mentioned during and after bird and quail hunting season, there are a lot more bird dogs in the pound.
"Their owners let them go because they didn't perform right; or maybe they did, but the person doesn't want to take care of the dog for 10 more months. Some have even been known to shoot the dogs," said Dr. Markham.
"Most good bird dog owners don't spare any cost in taking care of their dogs," he added.
Mrs. Morin said her Humane Society office gets many calls everyday concerning animal cruelty, and often people are unintentionally mistreating their pet.
As examples, she mentioned people who leave an animal outside without food or water for long periods, in rainy weather or in the hot sun with no shade.

Pets left in cars with the windows rolled up on hot days are also being mistreated, usually unintentionally.
Mrs. Morin said she has been receiving more calls recently about horses, especially Shetland ponies, which some people treat like backyard pets, not realizing the special treatment they need.
A woman who lives out in the country said she saw a terrier die within three days when its owner abandoned it by her gate. As if to relieve himself of blame, he left a small dish of water and food, which were soon gone.
The woman's children tried to rescue the dog, but it tried to bite them and ran back out to the fence, chasing each car with the hope it was his owner.
The woman points out how much more humane it would have been for the owner to have taken the pet to the animal shelter, where someone might have taken it or it would have been killed humanely, instead of being run over or starved to death.
People in Canyon that catch or see stray animals, whether or not they seem to belong to someone, should call the police, and animal control officer, Lt. Tom Rolan, will try to solve the problem.
Rolan said he usually receives one to five calls a day about animals, but he does not pick up an animal with each call.
"Some dogs know every police car in Canyon and stay a block or two ahead of them," explained Al Stewart, police chief and former animal control officer.
Stewart also said in July and August many female dogs come in season, and male dogs roam around in packs.
According to a city ordinance, pets in Canyon are not supposed to run at large but must be contained on leashes or within fences. This includes cats.
Stewart pointed out that according to another ordinance, the police have the right to shoot unlicensed, unvaccinated dogs running at large. Instead of using shotguns, they use a tranquilizer gun.
A few times, dogs have been killed by the tranquilizer, because its effect depends on the dog's age, health condition and other factors. In fact, Stewart, when he was the animal control officer, unintentionally killed Rolan's dog with the tranquilizer gun.
The animals that Rolan catches are taken to Dr. Markham's veterinary clinic and animal shelter, where those with tags are kept at least five days before being killed. Animals without tags are kept at least three days. People who claim their pets are required to pay a $2 misdemeanor fine for the city plus a fee to Dr. Markham.
Rolan and Stewart said that Canyon residents may have traps and catch animals, but they are not supposed to dispose of the animals themselves. Also, it is against the law to fire any weapon, including pellet, air and BB guns, within the city limits.
They said Canyon has a tremendous amount of stray cats, and they have put six cat traps out. Several years ago, the city cat traps were given to private citizens, and about two or three have never been turned in, Rolan said.
"Strays are not hard to handle, but we really need people's cooperation in taking care of their own pets," said Rolan.
In fact, an owner of a pet which is running at large, especially habitually, may be served an animal summons to appear at municipal court, said Stewart. Upon conviction, a person may be fined $1-200.
Canyon police do use shotguns to shoot one group of animals—skunks. "Even if it's two or three in the morning and we might wake up someone, we're going to shoot a skunk, rather than take the chance of it being rabid and biting another animal," Rolan explained.
Any time an officer fires his weapon, he is supposed to put it down on his report, in case someone calls to ask for an explanation of shooting.

"We're right in the middle of two sides of people—those who may not like a certain type of animal and those who do," said Stewart.
"Really, animal control is not a police function, but in Canyon we do not have the money for regular animal control authorities," Stewart added.
Meanwhile, the animal control and cruelty problem continues, probably because of two groups of people: those who do not control their pets and those who think they have the right to mistreat or kill defenseless animals.

Dr. J.L. Markham, Canyon veterinarian and animal shelter director, examines a mourning dove, found shot near the Canyon Square. Dr. Markham said although the wound was fairly large, the bird had a fairly good chance for recovery because birds have a tremendous recovery rate from infection.

Watch Out For Food Poisoning

Summer blazes with outings, picnics, barbecues — and food poisoning.
"Foods can look appetizing, smell good and even taste delicious yet still cause illness," Mrs. Becky Hall, County Home Demonstration Agent, said.
"Poor or improper handling of food in the home is the major cause of food poisoning outbreaks," noted Mrs. Hall. "Most types of food poisoning aren't fatal and normally result from two bacterial organisms: staphylococcus and salmonella."
According to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, thorough hand washing before handling any food is one of the best and simplest precautions against contamination. Individuals who are once infected with the salmonella bacteria may become carriers of the infection for many months, even though they look and feel healthy.

"You can easily pick up the bacteria while handling raw vegetables, meats and poultry and then introduce it into sandwiches, salads, custards and other prepared foods," the specialist said.
She pointed out that salmonella feed on protein foods and to a lesser degree on starch. The temperature for optimum growth is around 95 degrees, but the bacteria can grow at room temperature and can even survive temperatures as high as 140 degrees for short periods of time.

"Freezing doesn't kill salmonella but simply transforms it into a dormant state. So don't thaw frozen meats and poultry at room temperature. Instead, thaw them in the refrigerator, under cool running water (in freezer wrappings), or by cooking them frozen."
Mrs. Clyatt said that cooking temperatures of 165 degrees destroy salmonella organisms, so any food cooked to this temperature is free of the bacteria, unless recontaminated by the food handler.
To prevent outbreaks of salmonella, she advised washing hands thoroughly before handling any food.
"Keep drainboards and utensils clean. Even small spots of food left on drainboards may harbor salmonella that will start to multiply at room temperature."
She said to refrigerate food promptly to prevent bacteria from growing. Cook poultry and ground meat until well done; 165 degrees F. kills the bacteria. Meats that aren't ground will have no more than surface contamination so you can safely serve them rare.
"To avoid recontaminating cooked foods for storing," she added, "cool quickly and keep cold. Thoroughly wash all foods which are eaten raw."

Show's Viewers Leave Part Of Selves Behind

Each evening, after the last long chords have soared, and the audience starts down the hill of the Pioneer Amphitheatre toward the parking lot, they carry with them the story of the early West, and memories of the dancing and singing and drama they have seen.
But there are some things they forget to carry, when they leave "TEXAS."
The lost and found has numerous articles in the following order: There are more pillows than anything else; then come head scarves, jackets and sweaters of all kinds, towels, purses, billfolds, car keys, jewelry (single earrings, pins and watches), glasses and glass cases, including all kinds—sun, bifocals, trifocals—ID cards, check books, shoes and children's sandals, hats, paper books, coloring books and car games.
And in addition, one bra and one slip came in, some antique binoculars, a pheasant hat band, a stunning red blazer and a handsome knit coat.
After watching the hospitality crew hunt 15 minutes for a purse, one beguiling person suddenly located it in a dark corner where she had hidden it while drinking a glass of tea, and she exclaimed, "Little old ladies are funny, but they sure do get by with a lot."
Trying to trace owners, and locate lost items, takes a good deal of time. One missing purse had been taken to the Park Ranger at the top of the hill, and turned in there. The distraught owner was relieved when the Ranger managed to fight his way against the outgoing traffic and drive down the hill to bring it to her. Another was frantically hunting on a rainy night when a car returned to the theatre with it. When the rain started, the man of the party had grabbed a purse from the floor near his daughter's chair. After part of the trip home, he inquired and found that he had walked off with the purse of a stranger, so he returned. (It has rained out only nine "TEXAS" performances in seven years, but each downpour brings its own stories.)

The ushers found one purse with a name and Corpus Christi address in a section where a traveling group had been sitting. After many telephone calls to motels, the owner was located and answered the telephone sleepily. After the inquiry, she was very indignant, complained about being awakened, saying she had her purse. Only after considerable urging did she look around, and learned, to her surprise, that her purse was missing.
Recently a patron with a dress of nubby fabric discovered a pair of bifocals hanging from her skirt, and their owner hasn't asked for them yet.
The lost and found story which will always be remembered, however, is the one of the teeth which were lost. A young lady came to inquire, saying that her mother had put the teeth into a paper sack after eating, and had left the sack about two weeks previously. She wanted to know whether they had been found, and if not, whether the trash were located where it could be searched. Unfortunately, there was no way to trace it.
Those who wish to leave their pillows and towels at home, or at the theatre, and come, may write "TEXAS," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182 for tickets and for information. The cast will play nightly except Sundays through August 26, 1972.

Understudies Will Perform

Several understudies will receive their chance to shine this week in "TEXAS," as they perform in leading roles.
Tonight, Bruce Romig will play the role of Uncle Henry, wealthy rancher. Romig has acted at the Amarillo Little Theatre and is now director of public information for Texas State Technical Institute.
Tuesday night, Rick Wilson, a Canyon High graduate, will be Calvin Armstrong, a young homesteader. Wilson returned this spring from a Navy tour during which he sang leading roles in such productions as "The Messiah."
Last Tuesday, Ron DeVoe played Tucker Yelland, prospector. DeVoe graduated from Amarillo Tascosa High and has played in several productions at the Amarillo Little Theatre. He has attended Abilene Christian College and WTSU and works as a KDJW disc jockey.

Church Classes Begin Monday

Teachers are busy preparing for the opening of the First United Methodist's weekday kindergarten beginning Monday at 8:30 a.m. Vacancies still exist for five-year-olds.
Mrs. Emmitt Smith, formerly with the Amarillo public schools, will teach four-year-olds Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays, 8:30 to 10:30. Five-year-olds are taught Monday-Friday, 8:30 to 10:30 by Mrs. Fern Bellah. Monthly tuition is $13.50 for four-year-olds and $20 for five-year-olds.

STEVE VERNON HAS done an exceptionally good job with the youth of Happy this summer — both during the musical and at the "Mustard Seed."

SANDY RAILSBACK WAS unable to be in the musical because of her illness, but Sandy is home now and on the road to recovery.

GUESTS SUNDAY EVENING at the musical included Eutha Hamblen and Florene Moore of Canyon and Mrs. A.C. Walker and Mrs. Tackitt and several of their family of Panhandle.

THE METHODIST HAD a picnic in Ceta Canyon on Sunday afternoon. Billy Jackson and Eddie Wilson gave a history and devotional everyone liked, pitched horseshoes or played volleyball. Eugene Jackson and Bob McDonald won the horseshoe pitching contest.

JAY FREEMAN WAS honored with a tea on Saturday by the Happy Jaycee-Ettes at Della Venhaus's home. Jay was Texas Outstanding Jaycee-Ette president in 1971-72 and Texas Outstanding Jaycee-Ette the previous year. Congratulations, Jay! And sorry I didn't make it. I had company all afternoon.

PHIL BRADLEY OF Gruver stopped by to check on our progress. Then Leona Henry and Alice McGeehe drove out. Suzanne and Adren Cunningham and Charlie Tate were here later.

IRENE USELDING GAVE Leona McFarland a birthday party Friday afternoon. Irene served cake, ice cream and coffee to Mike Pulsipher, Willa Elliott, Mildred Middleton, Jerry Haland, Joyce Wheat, Anna Bee Robinson, Mary Jane Miller, Willie Butler, Irene Hardaway, Pat Hargrave, and Ruby Vise also sent cards.

LEONA AND MERLE McFarland, Si and Willa Elliott, Lou Rose and Earl Bell Cosby, Mattie Ruth and Edgar Robinson, and Millie and Willard Middleton went to the Country Barn Saturday night.

NOVALENE and John Toles have been seeing the sights in Salt Lake City (and floating on the lake.) and on their tour of Alaska. They say the glaciers are fantastic from the air and they also saw them from ground level. They've toured Mount Alyeska and Portage Glacier, Fairbanks, Anchorage, and have seen Mount McKinley. The whole trip sounds fabulous! Thanks for thinking of me!

I READ IN Anna Bee that Mary and LaVelle Phifer have adopted a Baby Girl. That is news! And Congratulations! Doris was born July 17, and already has two brothers, Gary, 6, and David, 8. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Miller.

HELENE MCFARLAND CALLED a few weeks ago. They are home from New York. Gwen lost his eye, but they immediately put in an eye socket and Helene says he is doing very well. The eye that got the weed poisoning was also the one on which Gwen had had surgery. The most pleasant surprise was a very large group of people, family and friends, were gathered at the airport to meet them when they arrived.

MELTON AND PAT Schaefer have moved into the Montgomery home. Pat was severely burned on her arms and legs by a flaming skillet of grease last week. Grandparents have been baby sitting.

BROTHER AND MRS. Paul Heil, Shannon, Paula and Shawn have been vacationing in Colorado at Paul's mother's cabin. They fished and just rested. Phoebe said, "No telephone." Sounded peaceful.

ADREN CUNNINGHAM AND his partner won the team roping at the Silverton rodeo last weekend.

BILT RITE FARMS held a swine meeting on August 8th. Dr. Bill Thomas, Extension Swine Specialist, Texas A&M University, discussed the value of a testing program. Mike Henderson covered maintenance of herd health and sanitation. Tom Eckhart from Ames, Iowa, gave a demonstration on using the Anscan ultrasonic machine to estimate back-fat thickness and loin-eye area or muscling in live animals. Bob Robinson was interviewing for KGNK.

BILT RITE FARMS showed and won the Grand Champion Gilt at the West Texas Duroc Breeders Show and Sale at Lubbock last Saturday. Andy Rahlis placed fourth with his boar and both Grand Champion and Reserve Champion came out of the same class as Andy's boar so that is really good too.

WE WERE ALL saddened by the death of Emmie White. Services were held Friday morning in the Methodist Church and burial was in the Happy Cemetery. Emmie and Alti have been the custodians of the Baptist Church for a long time so we feel as if Emmie belonged to the Baptists, too.

EMMIE WAS THE Worthy Matron of Happy Chapter when I joined Eastern Star. We have many pleasant memories. Our sincerest sympathy to Alti, Faye Ann and family.

WANDA AND ROBERT Ferguson from up near Sunray came to the funeral Friday. I really enjoyed visiting with them. Robert is a county commissioner and so I hit him up for two miles of pavement. He laughed and said, "You might as well, everyone else does."

THERE ARE ONLY three or four miles of this county line road left in Randall County that aren't paved (on the east end.) I've been going that same road to Hereford for years, too, but I don't actually know where the line is over there. Cecil Henry used to say years ago that this dirt was "worn out" and that it was hard to make in to a good road. So, how about that few miles of pavement, Commissioners?

MARLIN SLUDER CALLED Maureen Allison (Ex-Student Association Secretary) from Kansas City, Missouri to confirm the Homecoming date of September 29th. He plans to be here. Marlin is with Farmland Industries in Kansas City.

KELLY AND JO ANNA Hurst are visiting their grandmother in Omaha, Nebraska.

JIM AND EDDIE Cope have purchased a trailer home and moved to Floydada. I'll surely miss that Joda and Jeffna.

JACKIE AND DAVID Matthews and their two year old daughter, Brandy, have moved again this time to the John Butler Farm. Frances and Red Matthews helped them move and Frances called Sunday from David's I teased her that she'd be visiting in this area more often now. Brandy is the only grandchild and the only great niece in this family.

DONNA AND DEBRA Magness flew home Monday from Houston. Don has to take more tests on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Don and Mary Ann plan to be home sometime Thursday.

MILDRED AND DON Carr and their Jim have been visiting Vera and Bill Eubanks. Mildred and Jim came Monday for the National Finals of the American Junior Quarter Horse Association at the Bill Cody Arena in Amarillo. Don flew in Friday in time to be present when Jim won third in the finals in the cutting horse division. Course that's the Bill Eubanks grandson. The Carr's returned home (down by Fort Worth on Sunday.)

GARY CULP and Becky Helen Dunlap were married in Floydada Saturday afternoon. I hope you read about that beautiful wedding in last Sunday's Canyon News. Among those from Happy who attended were Bertie Culp, Myra Nell and Everette Culp and Vickie (of course), Lee and Karlen Moore, Mary Jane Miller, Jody and Robert Lee and Bob, Susan Rahlis, C.J. and Camilla Greenfield Carr, Anna Bee Robinson, Acie Dell Boyd, Viola Buchanan, Eula Hayes, Marvel and John Marshall and Ann Lovese and George White and Nancy Bob Robinson. Over thirty five attended the rehearsal supper on Friday night at the Carriage House in Lubbock.

JEANNE PARKER WAS eleven years old on August 6, but the next day, Andi Payne, Gennie Jackson, Marta Donnell and Kathy Phillips helped her celebrate with a swimming party at the Canyon Pool and then a wienner roast at Roadside Park.

JEANNE PARKER SPENT from Tuesday until Friday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woods of Canyon.

AT THE swimming pool, Nancy Parker visited with a group from the First United Methodist Church in Oklahoma City. They were on a "mystery tour" and no one in the group knew where they were going (except a few. Sounded unusual. They were bound for "Texas" that night in Palo Duro Canyon.

I OWE SOME apologies so I may as well get it over with. That was Linda Schrib that went to Gloria with Maureen Allison and Willie Butler. Sorry about that. My mind (and body) have been so tired that I'm not sure I've even signed my name right. That bunch just knows this column when they see it.

AND JESSIE CLOE Lane went to Colorado to see her brother, Brice. I should have shut up right there. Of course, Brice is Brice Payne. Both the Paynes and the Mahlers are a very fine family and so maybe they'll forgive me that one. Who knows they may get a chance to get it back on me.

RUBY VISE was hostess to the Ester Sunday School class on Tuesday morning. Ruby Oller, year book chairman, planned the class year books.

L.S. SLIM JOHNSTON died Monday afternoon, August 14th, and this area lost a great man. Slim had gained fame and recognition as a sheriff, leader, the head of a family, friend, and benefactor. Slim helped with every funeral. I've seen him standing in the snow or in the rain with his hat in his hand. Never heard him complain about a service he performed. . . and they were many. The Lord must have surely needed a top ranking Sheriff and gentleman somewhere because He took the greatest one He could find. Slim will be hard to replace as a sheriff, impossible to replace as a man. Our sincerest sympathy to Flossie and Juanita and Lewel, Harold Dean, and Bob and Faye Johnston. We'll all miss him for a long time.

I READ A SIGN recently that said, "If you want your prayers answered, when you get off your knees, hustle!" I liked that!

SEE YOU in Happy!

See ya,
Mary Neal

Amarillo Man Gets Probated Sentence

Anthony Paul Penna of Amarillo received a probated sentence Monday afternoon in 47th District Court after pleading guilty to a misdemeanor charge of receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $5 and under $50.

Judge E.E. "Gene" Jordan fined Penna $1 and sentenced him to a year in jail, probated for two years.

Earlier in the day, Penna was on trial in Canyon on a felony charge of receiving and concealing stolen property.

He was charged with receiving and concealing 100 cartons of cigarettes on Dec. 22, 1971.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said witnesses called during the felony trial included Doyle Burt, a local merchant, and Bob Bouyea of north of Canyon.

Burt testified that Penna approached him last summer desiring to sell cigarettes and other merchandise. Dowlen said. Burt said he told late Sheriff Slim Johnston of the offer and Johnston authorized him to purchase the merchandise.

He testified that just before Christmas 1971, Penna sold him

100 cartons of cigarettes and that he again turned them over to Johnston.

Bouyea testified that he had accompanied Penna to Canyon with the cigarettes in the summer of 1971 rather than at Christmas 1971.

Under cross-examination by Dowlen, it was revealed that Bouyea had signed two sworn affidavits stating that he had accompanied Penna to Canyon in December 1971.

He said he had been mistaken when he had made the sworn statements concerning the time of year he accompanied Penna to Canyon.

"At that time, Judge Jordan requested that Mr. Bouyea be presented to the Randall County Grand Jury for possible indictment on a perjury charge or for false swearing," Dowlen said.

Dowlen said following Bouyea's testimony, the state's case lacked substantiating testimony from either Sheriff Johnston or his wife, Mrs. Johnston. Johnston died during the noon recess of the court.

Following the noon recess, Penna agreed to enter a plea of guilty to the lesser misdemeanor charge.

Waiting for the "Creative Years" summer camp in Ceta Canyon Methodist Camps to begin Monday, some of those in attendance made friends and renewed old acquaintances. The camp was especially for adults over 60.

Unusual Summer Camp Closes

Hearing about a summer camp, one usually thinks of the kids having fun and being out of their parents' hair. Ending today at Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp, the "Creative Years" camp did not fit this image of a summer camp.

Especially for people older than 60 in the United Methodist Northwest Texas Conference, the camp was attended by about 60 people, including Mrs. Thomas L. Collins, 407 Foster Lane, Canyon First United Methodist Church.

Chances to get away from home, meet other senior citizens, learn new ideas about crafts, worship and recreation and join in general fellowship were the purposes of the four-day camp, said Miss Barbara Sommerville, camp director.

Miss Sommerville was the director when the camp first began, 13 years ago.

Playing Monopoly and 42 was part of the unofficial schedule of events, while a Palo Duro picnic, "TEXAS" and an old-time fashion show were on the planned activities list.

Also scheduled were worship in nature settings, stunts, skits, rhythm band entertainment and craft activities. Miss Sommerville said some items for the craft projects were taken from the camp setting, such as bark, plants and rocks.

Other staff members included crafts director, Mrs. Woodrow Adcock, of Amarillo San Jacinto United Methodist; worship experiences director, N.C. Thomas, minister of Christian education at Amarillo Polk Street United Methodist; associate director, Miss Rachel Divers, Lubbock; and the Rev. Ron Hamby, Sweetwater United Methodist Church. Towns represented at the camp included Midland, Vernon, Hereford, Paducah and Chillicothe.

CHS Grads Win Grants

Four Canyon High School graduates have accepted scholarships to attend West Texas State University this fall.

They are Woody Kent Jones, Benny Richardson, Lynette Slack and Joy Williams.

Clifford Baker of WTSU's student financial aids office said the scholarships were awarded on the basis of the students' scholastic abilities and leadership potential.

Jones of 3205 Linda Lane received a $200 scholarship. Richardson of 1102 8th Ave. received a $250 scholarship. Miss Slack of 801 15th St. and Miss Williams of 2011 2nd Ave. received $200 each.

Woody Earns 2nd Lt. Rank

David R. Woody, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Woody, 2304 6th Ave., was commissioned an Army Second Lieutenant on July 21, upon completion of six weeks of ROTC advanced summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan.

2nd Lt. David R. Woody

Lt. Woody was enrolled in the ROTC program at West Texas State University, where he learned the skills necessary to command.

A 1967 graduate of Hale Center High School, Lt. Woody received a B.B.A. degree in 1971 from WTSU. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Campaign Office Opens Tonight

Official opening for the area McGovern for President campaign headquarters will be at 7 p.m. today at 813 Polk St. in Amarillo.

Mrs. Andrea Green of Canyon was named chairman of the area campaign last week.

During registration Monday at the "Creative Years" summer camp in Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp, some of those in attendance prepared and put on wooden tags with their first names burnt on the wood. The camp was especially for adults over 60.

WT Trackmen Will Become Football Ends

One half of West Texas State's school record 440-yard relay team will be at split end for the Buffaloes this fall in the persons of Carl Brown and Kenneth Sellers.

Brown passed up spring football drills after earning his spurs as a varsity player last fall and during the spring he set a Missouri Valley Conference record in the 120-yard high hurdles (13.9).

While Brown was setting track marks during spring football drills, Sellers was showing the varsity football coaches why he averaged 43.9 yards per catch on seven receptions as a freshman.

Following the completion of spring football drills Sellers went out for track, ran a 9.6 in the 100 during a trial to get on the 440-yard relay team, and then teamed with Brown and two others to run a school record 40.6 at the conference meet in Memphis, Tenn.

Brown and Sellers could have a dog fight to see who starts at the split end berth this fall. Brown caught eight passes and averaged 41.6 yards per reception last fall. He scored touchdowns on receptions of 70, 80 and 85 yards.

Two tryouts also had good springs. Scott Doores, a Buffalo basketball player from Perryton, came out on his own and played well at both split end and in the secondary. He will probably be used in the secondary this fall. The other tryout split end was Odessa Permian's David Cleveland.

At tight end, sophomore Merced Solis had the upper hand during the spring. The 211-pounder from Mission led the freshmen in receptions during four games with eight for 161 yards.

Solis is listed on the pre-practice depth chart in front of squadman Attila Vegh, a 210-pound senior, and another Buffalo basketball player, Tom Brownfield. Like Doores, Brownfield came out for drills in the spring. He is 6-5 and 215.

Among the other receivers, halfbacks Cole Fraley, Jimmy Lisle, Rusty Tucker and Cecil Hood are all adequate in the pass-catching department.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Job Placement Picture Is Brighter For Grads

By JUNE DAYEN

The job placement picture for both recent and old graduates of West Texas State University has been bright this past spring and summer, according to Jack Edmondson, director of public services in charge of placement.

"In spite of a widespread gloomy feeling that the teaching field is saturated, the demand for teachers has actually increased this year as far as our office is concerned," claimed Edmondson, pointing out that although his office scheduled fewer screening interviews than last year, they had more inquiries and vacancies listed.

Edmondson did not deny, however, that there were about 100 people in the Canyon-Amarillo area who could not be absorbed into the teaching system. But he added, "I haven't heard of any teaching applicants, really serious and willing to relocate, who haven't got jobs this summer."

The teaching area currently of greatest demand, according to the WT placement director, is special education. "Anyone with a bachelor's or master's degree in teaching of mentally retarded, educable or trainable children, in speech therapy, or diagnosis and handling of learning disabilities can be sure of securing a position," he commented.

Mathematics, science, and industrial education, especially on a secondary level, are also fields of good opportunity for qualified applicants.

A large number of openings in coaching athletics come into his office each year, said Edmondson, but reflect high turnover in the field, rather than expansion. "We've even had several requests for social studies teachers this year," he said, to emphasize the upward trend of placements.

Edmondson noted that school administrators, however, were becoming more specific about certification areas and more interested in grade transcripts.

"It is becoming increasingly more difficult to obtain temporary certification from the Texas Teachers Agency, because of the numbers of qualified teachers available," he observed.

SPRY Club Will Meet

S.P.R.Y. Club will have their monthly covered dish luncheon and meeting at 11:30 a.m. Monday, August 24, at the First United Methodist Church.

Individuals who wish to attend may arrange transportation by calling 655-3540.

B. B. Warren Will Head Association

Bernard Warren was named president of the Downtown Merchants' Association Monday night at a general meeting of the membership held in First National Bank.

Ray Gardner was elected vice president and Mrs. Lois Rice was retained as secretary.

Warren is associated with Warren's Department Store. Gardner operates White Auto Store and Mrs. Rice is the owner of The Furniture Galleries.

Other members of the board include Bud Parker of Western Auto, Benny Cooper of Cooper's Thriftway and Jerry Williams of Williams Et Cetera.

Warren succeeds Mrs. W.E. Parker of Dan's Fifth Avenue as president of the association.

News Brief

Fr. A.J. Peters, 2520 9th Ave., received a masters degree in business administration at the summer commencement held Saturday, Aug. 12 at Huntsville.

Commenting on the employment situation in other areas, Edmondson said that demand from business and industry for WT business graduates with specific areas of preparation continues to be good, although generally "levelling off." His office conducted fewer screening interviews this year.

"The graduate in accounting has an open field," he stated. "The demand is tremendous and promises to continue." His office also receives many requests for graduates prepared as computer programmers or managers. Transportation and insurance businesses absorb many WT graduates. Seed, fertilizer, and feedlot businesses recruit many of the agriculture graduates.

Edmondson took the sustained demand for WT graduates as indication of the caliber of training they receive at the university. "We don't take a back seat to anyone in the fields of teacher preparation and business," he concluded.

Dr. (Capt.) Philip R. Warren

Warren Begins Med Internship

Army Doctor (Captain) Philip R. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Warren of Canyon, recently began one year of internship at Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston.

Upon completion of his training, Dr. Warren will be qualified for assignment to an army hospital or a medical unit of the Army.

Dr. Warren was graduated in 1965 from Canyon High School. He received his BS degree in 1968 from WTSU and his MD degree in 1972 from the University of Texas Medical Branch. He is a member of Alpha Chi, Beta Beta Beta, and Phi Rho Sigma fraternities.

ZTA Recruits For Marathon

Zeta Tau Alpha will conclude the membership drive for their third annual Bridge Marathon on August 23, according to Mrs. Georgia Blackwell, chairman.

Many teams have already entered both husband-wife division and women's division. In the past first and second prize awards of $35 and $25 have been awarded in both divisions.

Couples are paired for seven bridge rounds by the Marathon committee, but may choose their own time and day for playing hands during the month designated. The bridge games are played in the homes of the team members.

A donation of $1 per person is sent in to the committee along with the score after each engagement is played, all proceeds go to Zeta Tau Alpha projects which include gifts to retarded children.

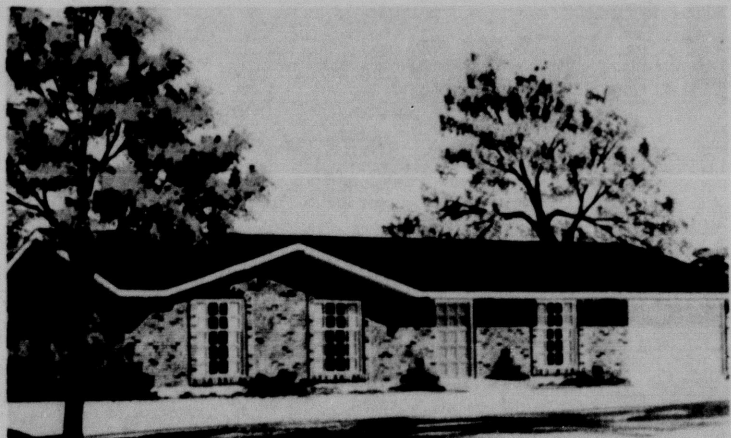

Interested persons may enter by calling Mrs. Peggy Jones at 655-3652 or Mrs. Georgia Blackwell at 655-3849.

Long-time Sheriff Slim Johnston Dies

Slim Johnston is dead. Lewis Samuel Johnston, sheriff of Randall County for the past two decades, died at 12:50 p.m. Monday in Neblett Hospital.

At the age of 65 he was a victim of lung cancer. During the months of his illness he faced death as he had life, calmly thinking of those about him.

Sheriff Johnston took office Jan. 1, 1953 and lived to become one of the most esteemed peace officers in the Southwest. His exploits were not only the subject of state and national press but were also chronicled in the pages of the German equivalent to Life Magazine.

Slim Johnston numbered among his friends not only the great and powerful but also the downtrodden and weak. Most of the inmates of the jail he supervised learned to love this strapping 6-foot, 2 sheriff if they knew him for an extended length of time.

Slim was a special friend to the youngsters of his community.

He was soft spoken and compassionate but he could turn steel hard when the duties of his office demanded it.

This was illustrated early Christmas morning of 1960 when a message came through that Robert Potter, assistant chief of police at Tulia, had been murdered by three burglars and were headed toward Canyon chased by a Tulia nightwatchman.

The three thugs took to a rural road. Johnston blocked the road and was joined almost immediately by Deputy Ray Tinsley. The two officers ordered the escaped Indiana convicts out of their car as it screeched to a stop at the road block.

For a moment they hesitated and then the sight of the lawmen's two shotguns lined up on them was too much. They surrendered.

Slim was named citizen of the year by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce a little more than a month later and then was presented the six-gun award by The Globe-News as the area's outstanding peace officer.

Probably the peak of the sheriff's detective work began to unfold on St. Patrick's day in 1956 when two small boys found the body of Robert F. Chapman in a pile of brush at the roadside park just south of Canyon. The body had been slashed 32 times in a vicious killing.

The sheriff's probe went all the way to Phoenix, Ariz., before he finally got the description of a suspect and the license number of his automobile.

Clarence Edward Young, a giant of a man—6 foot, 6 and weighing 275 pounds—was arrested and eventually convicted of the killing.

Typically, Sheriff Johnston refused the $1,000 reward offered by the slain man's family.

Workouts Continue For Eagles

Forty-eight boys braved the August heat this week on the Canyon Junior High field in preparation for those chilly nights this fall in Kimbrough Stadium.

Non-contact two-day football drills started Monday for hopefuls of the Canyon High School Eagles.

Contact drills begin Friday.

Even though training has just begun and Canyon's first game is three weeks away, Coach Ron Mills says his Eagles are enthusiastic and ready to play.

"Our kids are all in great shape and enthusiastic," Mills said following Tuesday's morning session.

Mills is concerned, though, about injuries.

"We have more hurt before the season this year than we had during the whole season last year," he said.

Quarterback Ed Lair is having foot trouble and is not expected to train or participate in a game for as much as four weeks.

Starting wingback Kenny Barton is out of play indefinitely with a leg injury which could require surgery.

Three other starters are plagued with minor injuries, but Mills expects them to be in good shape by the season opener on Sept. 8.

Amarilloan Cliff Longest Named County Sheriff

Cliff Longest, veteran law enforcement officer with more than 20 years experience, was appointed Wednesday to fill the unexpired term of L.S. "Slim" Johnston who died Monday.

Longest has been an officer since joining the Amarillo police force as a beat patrolman in 1949. He went to work as a Randall County deputy under Sheriff Johnston in June of 1957.

He has been the sheriff's department representative in South Amarillo for 15 years.

Longest lives with his wife, Doris, and daughter, Tonya, 8, at 4914 Leigh Street in South Amarillo.

The new sheriff said he would continue to maintain residence in Amarillo and would commute to the sheriff's office in Canyon.

He said he plans no changes in the department and has not yet made up his mind how he will assign to South Amarillo.

While with the Amarillo Police Department Longest served in a number of capacities including major investigation officer, motorcycle sergeant and in the juvenile division.

Longest was appointed by a commissioners court made up of three Democrats and two Republicans.

Under questioning he said he is a Democrat.

"But I've got a brother who is a Republican," he added hastily.

Longest is accredited as a peace officer by the state accrediting agency. He expressed a desire to attend FBI School at some time in the future.

Randall County Democratic Executive Committee will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the courthouse to select a candidate for sheriff to fill the position left vacant by Johnston. Those wishing to propose candidates are urged to attend.

New Town Hopes Clouded - Prati

A north Randall County man who has been seeking to incorporate a portion of the county since early spring met with city managers from Amarillo and Canyon Monday and said later the future of his incorporation hopes is cloudy.

Emil Prati, who sent county commissioners in early May a letter of intent to incorporate six sections north of Canyon into a township, village or city, said backers of the incorporation idea "might have to forget the whole thing."

Prati met with Amarillo city manager John Stiff and Canyon city manager George Loudder in Amarillo Monday afternoon.

He told The News later that Stiff and Loudder were concerned about his intentions concerning the incorporation of the six sections of land.

Prati revealed that he has heard rumors that "the only reason we'd consider anything like that (the incorporation) would be to put in an area like Impact down at Abilene to bring booze in there."

He denied the rumor and said if the area were incorporated it would be more inclined to stay dry than the surrounding county.

Prati ran into trouble earlier with his proposal due to his six

Stadium Grass Growth Slowed

Canyon High and West Texas State football players may be taking some nasty falls this year in Kimbrough Stadium.

Grass which was planted in the bowl earlier this summer has sprouted, all right, but the bare spots aren't few and far between.

"It's still got almost a month to grow and the field may be covered by the time Canyon plays its first game," a Buffalo spokesman said. "But, it won't be a real good turf."

And, with only a passable turf by the time Canyon plays, the Buffs may have an even more barren field.

Three games are scheduled for the bowl before West Texas uses the stadium for a game against Colorado State on Sept. 23.

The Eagles meet Spearman on Sept. 8 and Berger on Sept. 15 in

The Eagles, less their padding and helmets, took to the field this week for two-a-day drills. The equipment goes on for contact drills Friday and the Eagles play their first scrimmage game next Friday in Friona. Season opener is Sept. 8 against Spearman in Kimbrough Stadium here.

Tax Hike Talked By School Board To Finance New CHS Dressing Rooms

By LINDA LOCKETT

Canyon School Board members listened to Superintendent Jerry Jacobs Tuesday night as he discussed raising the school tax rate five cents, to $1.70, which he said would bring in $31,000 more in funds.

This hike could be used to pay for an adequate athletic dressing room, which would cost a maximum of $70,000, and other special projects, said Jacobs.

The board will meet at 8:30 p.m. Aug. 29 to decide about the possible tax raise, to adopt an amended budget for 1971-72 and discuss a proposed budget for 1972-73.

Jacobs also discussed the recently proposed 300-acre development southwest of Amarillo in the Canyon School District.

"This appears to go along with what we thought would happen. The firms involved in the development seem to be serious," said Jacobs, who added his office had been contacted by one of the contractors.

Jacobs said he estimates a larger enrollment of about 50 students this fall.

Calling enrollment expectations "a guessing game at this point," Jacobs said one or more teachers may have to be hired. He estimated the total working budget for next school year at $2,554,508, with a $2 million increase in tax values.

After much discussion, board members voted unanimously to provide a teacher for the Village of Hope, a home for unwed pregnant girls.

Jacobs said that under Senate Bill 230, a teacher for the girls may be paid from state funds entirely, with one girl allowing one-sixth of a salary based on the state salary schedule. He added that a teacher's travel expenses will be paid by the Village of Hope and some bookkeeping time will be "donated" by his staff.

Jacobs said the home has had from one to three girls during the past year, and they were being taught through extension work from their home-town high schools and by volunteer area teachers.

None of the junior high and high school age girls have been from the Canyon School District, said Jacobs.

Wasps Eliminate Greenbugs Here

Randall County farmers' greenbug problems are over for this year, according to County Agent John Brazzil.

Brazzil said this week that nature has provided its own remedy for the greenbug problem which has been plaguing area grain sorghum growers for more than five years.

That remedy is a parasitic wasp which has wiped out greenbugs.

Brazzil said the parasitic wasp uses the greenbug as food in the larvae stage of development.

"The wasp lays an egg for a new cycle in the back of the greenbug," he said. "The egg becomes a larva which feeds on the greenbug and after four or five days kills the greenbug."

Brazzil said the parasitic wasps are "out there by the millions."

This year, he said, Randall County sorghum farmers "have had less trouble with the greenbug than they have had in the past."

Many farmers, in fact, have not even sprayed for the notorious bugs. In comparison, in past years spraying has become almost routine.

Wheatheart Of Nation

Miss Canyon In Contest

Julie Brantley, the reigning Miss Canyon, will vie with 34 contestants in the Wheatheart of the Nation Beauty Pageant to be held in Perryton at 8 p.m. Saturday at the high school auditorium.

Julie was officially entered in the beauty contest by the Canyon Study Club. She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Brantley, 2600 9th Ave., and will be a senior at Canyon High School next year.

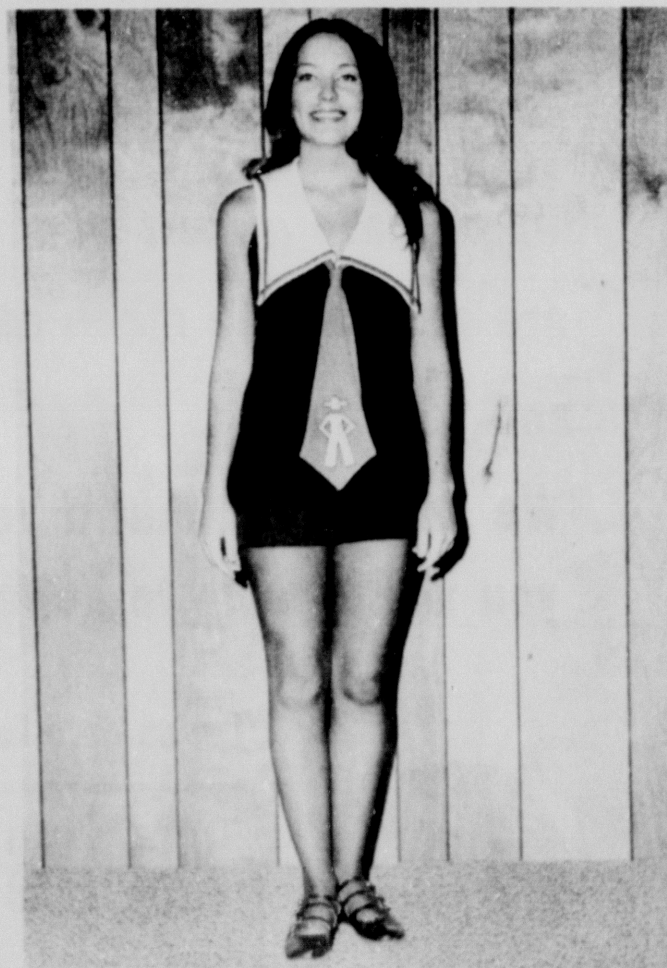

The 1972 winner of the beauty crown in the Miss Wheatheart of the Nation contest will receive a $1,000 college scholarship to the college of her choice. First runner-up will receive a $500 college scholarship, and second runner-up will receive a $250 college scholarship.

A full day's schedule of events has been planned for entrants in the Wheatheart contest, beginning with a Main Street parade during the morning. Each contestant will be expected to ride on a float or in a vehicle in swim suit.

At 12:30 will be a lunch at the Perryton Club for judges, contestants and the Wheatheart of the Nation Committee.

Following lunch, the judging begins with individual interviews at the High School Auditorium. Voting for Miss Personality is also scheduled in the afternoon.

SLIM JOHNSTON

County Mourns Johnston Death

The flag flew at half-staff Tuesday above the county courthouse in Canyon.

Three blocks away, three preachers said their last words over Slim Johnston.

More than 600 mourners lined the aisles and stood outside the First United Methodist Church during services for Johnston.

The young and the old began arriving as early as 4 p.m. Tuesday to pay respects to Randall County's sheriff and their cars lined the streets around the church for blocks.

It was a solemn crowd, a crowd peppered with the uniforms of law enforcement officers.

Policemen came from Amarillo. Patrolmen and officers from the Texas Department of Public Safety came. And, Potter County sheriff's deputies. And West Texas State University security officers.

Attorneys, judges and newsmen filed into the church with farmers, ranchers and local businessmen.

It was a calm day and peaceful. The sun beat down on those who stood outside the church during the services.

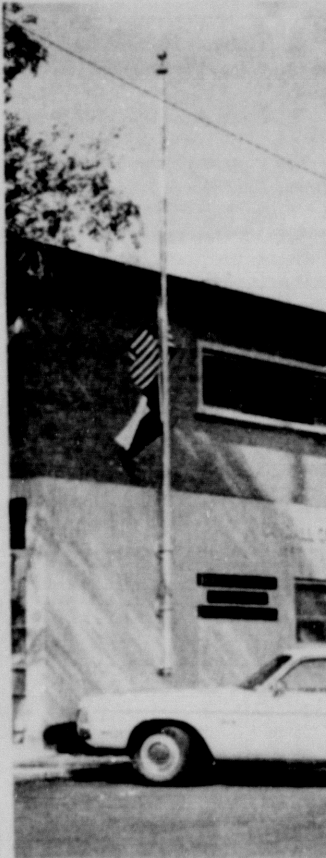

Inside, the Rev. J. Frank Peery, the Rev. Strauss Atkinson and the Rev. Newton Starnes quoted the Bible and talked about Slim.

Surrounded by flowers, the Rev. Mr. Peery recounted Slim's life, a life "filled with Christian service to the community."

He preceded his words of comfort to the family with vignettes from his own experiences with Slim.

Somebody Today," and a quartet of the Rev. Bill Foil, Bill Davis, Dr. Dudley Moore and Dr. Hugh Sanders sang "My Buddy," two songs the Rev. Mr. Peery (See COUNTY, Page 5)

The flag flying over Randall County Courthouse was at half-staff Tuesday in tribute to long-time Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston, who died Monday afternoon in Canyon. Funeral services were held Tuesday.

Retirement Head Denies Bias Charge

The director of the Texas Municipal Retirement System denied this week in a letter to City Manager George Loudder that the system discriminates against women.

Dean Gorham, system director, responded to a query sent by Loudder to the system concerning charges made last week by a female city employee that the system discriminates.

Gorham's letter states:

"This system does not 'discriminate' against women; however, it is a money purchase plan and we use the mortality experience. According to the latest tables, a woman is expected to live from five to six years longer than a man. We take this into consideration in the computation and naturally a man at a given age will receive more money than a woman at the same age but she is expected to draw the money over a greater period of time.

"I refer you to any of your local insurance agents who handle annuity plans and they will tell you that they use the same method of computation. In other words, if you and your wife happen to be the same age and you have, for example, $10,000 that you want to put aside for an annuity in an insurance plan, you would receive more monthly benefits upon retirement than your wife. To pay both of you the same amount would be discrimination against you."

Mrs. Marguerite Strain, a city employee 27 years, charged last week that she must work five years longer than a male employee to draw equal retirement benefits.

Mrs. Strain told The News she will file a class action complaint against the system with the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas.

Dr. Paula Latimer, president of the Texas Women's Equity Action League, told The News that the Dallas city government contended the same rationale as does the municipal retirement system during a recent controversy in that city.

Dr. Latimer said flatly that the Texas Municipal Retirement

When tragedy removes from among us a great man who is still useful to his fellow man, we cannot speak—but we are reminded that our finite understanding must often be supplanted by faith in the infinite wisdom of our Omnipotent.

by Troy Martin
FROM THE CANYON RIM

I don't know about the district as a whole but I think Graham Purcell may be running a fraction ahead here at Canyon. Graham has campaigned hard here even to the extent of moving his family into Canyon Creek Apartments in Hunsley Hills for the duration.

Bob Price hasn't paid too much attention to Randall County since the first of the year but this may be because he thinks the county is in the bag. It went heavily for Nixon in 1968 and undoubtedly will go even heavier for the President this fall.

I talked to a knowledgeable editor Tuesday who thinks Price is running well ahead district wide at this point but he thinks Purcell may be closing the gap.

The presidential campaign promises to descend to levels we have seldom seen in American politics. There could even be violence.

McGovern himself boasted that he had brought the demonstrators of Chicago inside the convention hall at Miami. If you remember, the rumble in Chicago was planned and led by hard core members of Students for a Democratic Society bent on disrupting the American political process.

At the risk of sounding like a "right wing extremist" I must point out that the late J. Edgar Hoover called the SDS the youth corps of the American Communist party.

There was an unsuccessful attempt to organize an SDS chapter on the West Texas State University campus about three years ago. Barte Haile, southwest traveler for the SDS who made the abortive attempt to form a WTSU chapter, was later wounded in a shootout with Houston police.

Campaigning alongside people like these is nothing new to George McGovern. He cut his political teeth on the Henry Wallace campaign in 1948.

Wallace was billed as the candidate of the Progressive Party but delegates to the party convention which nominated him included some of the most notorious Communist leaders in the US at that time. George McGovern was at that convention with them.

Communist Party USA endorsed the Henry Wallace platform. Josef Stalin hailed Henry

Wallace as one of the great statesmen of the century. Similar plaudits came from Red capitals around the globe.

Wallace pilloried US foreign policy at a time when we were eyeball to eyeball with Russia in Europe.

I could forgive the indiscretion of a McGovern 25 years old in 1948 were it not for the fact that much of his 1972 platform is simply a warmed over version of the Wallace platform of 24 years ago.

Wallace called on the US to surrender then and that is about what McGovern is asking us to do now.

Never once in the 1948 campaign did we hear Wallace criticize communist aggression. Neither have we heard George McGovern call on North Vietnam to withdraw their divisions from the south.

In the eyes of Wallace, the Reds were always right and the US always wrong. This seems to be the opinion McGovern holds today.

McGovern has shown himself to be a man willing to circumvent even his own rules if they do not serve his purpose. He violated his own set of principals to grab off all the delegates from California at the Miami convention.

On national television on the eve of that convention he told the world he would bolt the Democratic Party and become a third party candidate if he were under any circumstance denied the nomination.

This is not a blanket indictment of McGovern supporters by any means but the fact remains that McGovern's most vocal supporters HAVE repeatedly demonstrated their willingness to take to the streets in unbridled violence when unable to attain their goals through due process.

We may be witnessing the demise of the Democratic Party as we have known it. I don't see how the Kennedys and Connallys can ever work together again. The schism is too deep to heal.

Ramsey Clark is scheduled to testify before the Kennedy Committee on his recent trip to Vietnam.

You can expect Clark to use it as a platform to further vilify the United States.

Documents Can Be Fun

Are you interested in the U.S. census of 1850, or maybe Civil War records for both the North and the South? How about foreign economic trends, or just tracing your family tree?

All of this and much more is just a small part of the services available through the West Texas State University Library to persons living in the Texas Panhandle.

The documents department of the library is designated as a selective depository. This means it is eligible to select general items, such as hearings and commission reports, for deposit but not all available government publications.

The collection now includes approximately 470,000 items, says Mrs. Annette Cook, temporarily in charge of the documents section.

Faculty and students in government, history, economics, geology, business, education, agriculture, biology and military science are the principal on-campus users of government publication, she says.

But public organizations and businesses use the publications as well. Pantex, Veterans' Hospital, Amarillo Public Library, Southwestern Public Service, individuals working on books or articles, and businessmen from Canyon, Amarillo and Hereford find the publications in the documents department helpful, Mrs. Cook says.

Some of the heavily used series in the collection are the Statistical Abstracts, 1789-present; census publications, complete since 1850; Occupational Outlook Handbooks; Supreme Court reports; Tax Court and Board of Tax Appeal publications; Geological Survey bulletins; special commission and committee reports; official Army and Navy records of the Civil War; messages and papers of the presidents; and federal and state laws.

Individuals with unusual hobbies may find the department useful. If one wants to trace his family tree, he can get much information from the census materials, she says.

Students writing a thesis often turn to the documents department for original sources of information.

Use of the documents has increased each year. During the 1970-71 academic year, 15,985 publications were checked out which is an increase of 9,891 over the previous year, Mrs. Cook says. During the 1971-72 school year, 20,000 items were checked out.

All of the series are complete except where material is still classified and not yet made public information.

Moore Gets Commission

Philip L. Moore, 2107 Sixth Ave., was commissioned an Army second lieutenant, July 28, upon completion of six weeks of ROTC advanced summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Moore has been enrolled in the ROTC program at West Texas State University, and the summer camp called for practical application of his classroom work. He is a 1966 graduate of Breckenridge High School.

Rotary Club Members Hear Bell's Wickerham

Using raw elements of science to develop the most modern telecommunications services in the world was the theme of a program presented by Southwest Bell Science Demonstrator Roy Wickerham to the Canyon Rotary Club at their noon meeting Tuesday.

The program, entitled "From Beryllium to Vanadium, by Way of Krypton," features telephone innovations developed by Bell System scientists and engineers.

Mrs. Bennett Funeral Set

Funeral services for Mrs. Katherine Horne Bennett, 86, of 2001 9th Ave., will be at 11 a.m. Friday at LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

The Rev. J. Frank Peery of Canyon First United Methodist Church will officiate. Burial will be in Dreamland Cemetery.

Mrs. Bennett died at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday at LaCasa Convalescent Home.

A member of First United Methodist Church, Mrs. Bennett moved to Canyon from Amarillo in 1943. She was born in Woodbury, Tex., and married Walter Willis Bennett in 1910 in Bard, N.M.

Mrs. Bennett's husband died in 1965 and her son Robert Stewart Bennett died in 1960.

Survivors are a son, Eugene Willis of the home, and a brother, Horace Horne of Logan, N.M.

Police Chief Warns Drivers

Police Chief Al Stewart urged motorists this week to be more alert on Canyon's streets since local schools begin Monday.

"Children sometimes forget to look both ways before they cross busy streets," Stewart said. "The driver must be extremely careful as he drives in areas near schools."

Stewart noted that two children were struck by cars last school year.

WTSU Senior New City Clerk

Bob Moore, 22, a West Texas State University senior, has assumed duties as city clerk.

Moore replaces Glenn Metcalf, who resigned recently to become city manager at Abernathy.

A native of Coleman, Moore joined the city staff last week and gained some experience riding with Canyon policemen.

Moore has been a city employee in the water department for two years while he pursues his degree at WTSU.

WTSU Linebackers Young, But Long In Experience

(Note: This is part of a series on West Texas State University's football prospects for the 1972 season—LINEBACKERS).

Willis Haws carries over a B grade average at West Texas State University and it didn't take him but two days of standing on the sidelines, injured, to realize one strong fact.

Haws, who transferred to West Texas from Mesa Junior College in Arizona in the spring of 1971, started over half of the games last fall at an outside linebacker position. He injured a knee early in spring drills.

Haws, a 216-pounder from Eagar, Arizona, limped into the training room during the middle of practice of his second day on the injury list and confronted trainer, Lynn Laird.

"We've got to do something to this knee because all of those guys out there are getting ahead of me," he moaned. Haws was correct that the players on the field made a great deal of progress, but he was unable to get ready, physically, to play until the end of spring drills.

As a result of Haws' injury, little Weaver ended spring drills as the starting weak side linebacker. Weaver, who is too little and too slow to play major college football, but doesn't know it, is only 6-foot and 174 pounds. Like Bruce Davis, the middle linebacker, he was recruited off the Odessa football roster.

At the end of spring drills, all four of the top linebackers were sophomores. While Davis managed to edge veteran Joe Brock for the starting berth at the middle linebacker post and Weaver was in front of the injured Haws, two players ended in a near tie for the other outside linebacker slot. They are David Herber of Amarillo and Sunray's Steve Rogers.

Herber, who teamed with Weaver in one live contact drill about 10 days prior to the end of spring drills to collide with starting fullback Billy Pritchett and put him on the injured list, earned all-state honors for coach John McGuire at Tascosa High. Rogers started on the varsity as a freshman at Colorado Western State College, but transferred to West Texas State last fall and sat out a year to regain his eligibility.

Completing the linebacking group are sophomores Kurt Kinsinger of Liberal, Kansas, and Alton Cranford of Oklahoma City and squadman Bobby Hobbs of Elk City, Oklahoma.

"The Equal Employment Opportunity Act of 1972 explicitly details what is meant by 'sex discrimination' and it says in black and white you can't have a different retirement system (for men and women)," she said.

Dr. Latimer said she recognized the reasoning behind the percentage differences in computing retirement pay, but that new equal opportunity guidelines prohibit such discrimination against women in retirement systems.

Randall County's retirement system, which is under the Texas County and District Retirement System, shows similar dual benefit features for men and women.

tax money to provide a teacher for non-residents; but of course, I feel like everyone deserves education," Jacobs said.

After School Board President Dudley Moore said the idea was like "the little red schoolhouse," Jacobs said that the Canyon schools' homebound program is the same way and was serving up to seven girls out for sickness and pregnancy last school year.

In other business, board members unanimously approved a financial report and accounts payable.

They then awarded meat and potato bids for the fall semester to the low bidder in each category, with the stipulation that contracts would be based on service and quality.

The bidding specifications provided that the food must be state inspected and approved by Canyon Schools.

All Amarillo firms, San Jacinto received two contracts, Artic Foods nine contracts and Swift and Company, one award. A Lubbock firm, White Swan was ing the late M.E. Cantrell in 1952.

Since that time he has not had an opponent.

He was on the ballot alone in the May primary and was named Democratic candidate for sheriff. Republicans did not field a candidate.

"It would just have been a waste of time," one Republican remarked.

Sheriff Johnston was born in Burleson Nov. 20, 1906. He was married to Miss Flossie Hale, his childhood sweetheart, Nov. 23, 1924 and moved to Happy in 1927.

Slim had made the wheat harvest in this area and liked the way farming was done on the high plains.

The young family pulled up "stakes" at Eskota, 10 miles east of Sweetwater, where Slim had been working on a ranch training polo ponies.

He rented a 40-foot boxcar for $150 for the trip and brought most of his worldly possessions along. Slim recounted that he had a box lunch for the trip and drank fresh milk from the family cow.

Mrs. Johnston, their son, Lowell, and Slim's sister, Mrs. W.W. McElmurry, made the trip in a 1925 Model "T" automobile.

The family settled on a farm 8 miles east of Happy in Randall County.

It was a short time later while he was helping on a threshing crew on the George "Farmer" Schaeffer farm that the new arrival got his nickname.

Farmer Schaeffer referred to him as "that old slim boy over there." The name stuck. "Everybody called me Slim after that," the sheriff remembered.

Farming wasn't the way to make the most sumptuous living in the world then and Slim worked at the smelter in Amarillo on occasion.

Things got better in the 1940s. The Johnstons made some good crops and in 1947 moved into Canyon. The family home is at 2402 Eleventh Avenue.

Even after entering public life, Slim continued farming and his love for horses remained with him until his death.

He raised Quarter Horses and Apaloosa stock.

Sheriff Johnston served a sparsely populated rural area when he first took office. He saw the area mushroom into the fastest growing county in the state.

When he took the oath for the first time he had two deputies. The department has expanded to a dozen who served their boss with a fierce loyalty.

Deputy Tinsley, Cliff Longest, Crosby Hammons, Anna May Meyers and Merle Strickland each has a tenure of 14 years or more.

"He was a great friend," commented Tinsley.

"He was the best boss I ever saw," Longest added. "He always asked. He never com-awarded five contracts.

Board members agreed to advertise for bids Sept. 19 on two buildings at Umbarger, one of which was the old Lutheran Church on the Palo Duro Highway.

Three more teachers were hired: Ellen Wilson for Gene Howe Elementary; Robbie Manzer for Canyon High English department; and John Morrow, assistant girls' coach and football coach.

Commissioners cancelled out the main agenda of their regular meeting Monday after hearing of Sheriff Johnston's death.

The court adopted a resolution commending sheriff's deputies for "doing such an excellent job during his illness."

manded."

"If a job was dirty or long he'd do it himself if you didn't watch him," Tinsley went on. "He never asked anyone to do anything he wouldn't do himself."

Sheriff Johnston was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon, the Randall County Sheriff's Posse which he helped to organize in 1959, a 32nd Degree Mason, vice president of the Texas Sheriff's Association, Canyon Chamber of Commerce and the Tri-State Fair board.

He served as president of the United Peace Officers of America in 1962. The organization was dedicated to support of Boys Ranch—a project in which Sheriff Johnston had a keen interest.

Sheriff Johnston gave his wife credit for most of his accomplishments.

"She encouraged me even when I got beat," he said.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in First United Methodist Church. Officiating were the Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor; the Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of Lamesa First Methodist Church; and the Rev. Strauss Atkinson, missionary for the Caprock-Plains area Baptist Association.

Burial was in Memory Garden Cemetery under direction of LaGrone Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Crosby Hammons, Ray Tinsley, Cecil Johnson, Merle Strickland, Harold Hooks, Reed McDonald, Jim Merrick and Cliff Longest.

Canyon Police Department assumed law enforcement duties for the county while the funeral service was in progress. An honor guard of deputies kept vigil beside the casket until time for the funeral at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Members of the Sheriff's Posse and their wives sat in a group at the service.

Mrs. Johnston listed all who attended as honorary pallbearers. "He loved and respected all people," she said.

Survivors include the wife; two sons, Lowell G. of 3002 Fourth Avenue in Canyon, and Harold Dean of Amarillo; a brother, Bob Johnston of Happy; a sister, Mrs. W.W. McElmurry of Trent; and seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

sections' encroachment within the extra-territorial jurisdiction of Amarillo.

And, that was the basic point of discussion at Monday's meeting.

"We thought that extra-territorial jurisdiction was a straight line," Prati said. "The map shows a curved line."

Prati indicated incorporation backers will have to do further study.

It was revealed in mid-May that the six sections extends about a mile into Amarillo's extra-territorial jurisdiction. It does not encroach on Canyon's.

Prati said he told Stiff and Louder that the incorporation is for the purpose of providing a zoning authority for that area of the county. The six sections included in the proposed incorporation begins one mile south of McCormick Road and ends at Palo Duro Club Road. The area is two miles wide, one mile on either side of the Canyon Expressway.

"What we're concerned about is that we might have the same situation they have in Lubbock," Prati said. "At least we'd like to be in control so if we decide to be wet we could keep it out in our area."

Prati said last spring the people in the area proposed for incorporation "are capable of chartering our own course without the help of either the city of Amarillo or the city of Canyon."

In early June, Prati and two other residents backing the incorporation wrote an irate letter to mayors of Canyon and Amarillo and the county judge. The letter blasted county commissioners and city commissioners for what it termed critical comments about the incorporation.

In less than 40 minutes, the service was over and hundreds of cars joined the funeral procession to Memory Gardens Cemetery in Amarillo to say a last good-bye to Slim Johnston.

Sept. 8.

Mills said his team returned from the summer months in good physical condition.

He is probably most impressed with Bill Moore, who is slated to start this fall at the quarterback position.

"Bill is ahead of any quarterback I've ever had at this time of year," Mills said. "He's just a tremendous player."

The coach said Moore will play easily from the four basic sets which Canyon will run this year. "He's a good passer," Mills said. "He can throw the ball 65 or 70 yards well."

The head coach was also impressed with initial showings of his backfield lineup of Gary Gerber, Matt Hansen and Wayne Todd.

But, he admits he still faces some problems.

"Depth is a problem all the way through," Mills said.

Inexperience of the Canyon team will also be a problem.

His biggest problem, though, is his schedule.

The Eagles face five AAAA teams this year and some of the toughest in the AAA.

"Spearman is the most underrated team in the district," Mills said. "It has 10 starters back and will probably win their district."

In addition, the Eagles must face Borger, Caprock, Hereford, Pampa and Palo Duro in non-conference action.

Conference games are set against Levelland, Dumas, Perryton and Muleshoe.

The Eagles' first scrimmage will be next Friday against Roswell in Friona. The junior varsity scrimmage is expected to begin about 6:30 p.m. with varsity action following.

Season opener is against Spearman on Sept. 8 in Kimbrough Stadium in Canyon.

Things Happen At Wrong Time

There is a universal law which states that if something goes wrong, it will go wrong at the most inopportune moment.

Kay Henderson, co-owner of Tweedle Dee children's store here, saw the law in action last week as the store prepared for its grand opening.

On the day before the grand opening, the owners discovered they were out of certain clothing styles in certain sizes.

Mrs. Henderson decided to fly in a private plane to the clothing factory in Lamesa and John Teer of Canyon volunteered to pilot the plane.

Bright and early last Friday, the two arrived at Tradewind Airport only find that even if they took off from Amarillo, they couldn't land downstate because of bad weather.

The day wore on and finally they got into the air about 9:30 a.m.

Just past Lubbock, Teer and Mrs. Henderson ran into foul weather, so they returned to Lubbock and landed.

"At Lubbock, they showed us on radar the front," Mrs. Henderson said. "It was clear all the way to Canada and the coast except for this little patch downstate."

Teer and Mrs. Henderson decided to try again and they left Lubbock at 1 p.m. for Lamesa.

"It started raining and black clouds were approaching us," Mrs. Henderson said. "Jack said he didn't think we should try to go."

And then, the two discovered they were lost. Through breaking clouds, Teer saw below a town.

"He said he thought it was Brownfield," she said. "He told me to look on the water tower as he circled."

Mrs. Henderson couldn't read the tower and they circled again.

"It was Lamesa," she said. "There we were thinking we were lost and we were right over Lamesa."

Before 5 p.m., Mrs. Henderson was back in Canyon—too late for the first day of their grand opening but in plenty of time for the other two days.

The award was presented The News recently by the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas. Making the presentation are (left to right) Robert Wink, Jim Walker and Ron Davis.

Fowlkes Host 35 Foreign Students On Tour

By TROYCE MULHERIN GREETINGS:

THE MULHERIN FAMILY enjoyed spending a few days in Red River this past week. Guy and Marty devoted their time and attention to catching and eating fish and contend that their talent played the major role in producing their fine catch. The rest of the family, namely yours truly and Kaki, feel that pure luck took the starring role rather than talent. Kaki fulfilled the role of Equestrienne with enthusiasm, while momma Mulherin knitted, dried wild flowers and studied cloud formations. Just when we were getting accustomed to this trying existence, it was time to come back to civilization and six foot tall johnson grass. Alas!

THE HERB MCGREGOR family managed to sneak in a week of vacation fun recently on Mustang Island, which is up the coast from Padre Island in the Corpus Bay Area. Vondean didn't desert civilization entirely though, what with air conditioning, a dishwasher and maid service coming with their apartment. Not only that, when Herb forsook the cooking chores, the family ate out. (Now, that's a vacation!) Sherri and Danny caught crabs and let them go (too ugly to eat), and the family really enjoyed riding rafts in the ocean waters. After getting in some rest and relaxation, the McGregors headed home to a busier life style. As many of you know, Vondean is now serving as Elementary Curriculum Coordinator for the Canyon Schools. She will officiate at Rex Reeves, where she will spend three days a week, and will devote those other two days each week to Gene Howe School.

A BELATED HAPPY birthday to Mr. Robert Fowlkes, who celebrated on the 11th. HAPPY ANNIVERSARY TO Archie and Margaret Davis on the 15th. Daughter Clair recently entertained friends with an annual slumber party. Guests were Kim Wallace, Sherrie O'Dell, Rene Mester, Jennie Dolloss, Glenna Evans, Jennifer Engler and Darlene Rowland. These young ladies had a good time with some summer time fun time.

MR. WENDELL TRAMMELL shared his birthday fun and barbecue dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Adren Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brookes. The Trammell children and the Robinson children entertained the other generation with an impromptu rodeo, featuring bucking calves.

JAY MORRISON, SON of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Morrison, is the lucky young man treated to a week of fishing in Durango, Colorado, by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller. Friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gross were somewhat surprised to read about their son "Jay Gross," simply because the Grosses have a lovely daughter. This reporting error is credited solely to yours truly. This is not the first mistake your writer has made and probably will not be the last—but, bear in mind that my heart is in the right place even if my mind isn't. Anyway, Jay is still the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Morrison and Jay Morrison earned and enjoyed that fishing trip, and we wish him well in his football career next year.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO Mr. Bobby Aduddell, whose family helped him celebrate on the 11th.

VONDEAN MCGREGOR, GAY Cochran and Gloria Taylor served as hostesses for a party held in the McGregor home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lawless. Last year's faculty at Gene Howe met Mr. L's charming bride and presented the couple a lovely wedding gift, a set of Corning Ware dishes—white with an avocado band.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY TO Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates on the 18th.

CHARLIE FOWLKES'

CHAIRMANSHIP of the YWCA World Service Organization has definitely enriched his family's life as well as the lives of many, many young people. An open house held Tuesday night at the Fowlkes' home served as a get-acquainted affair for a tour group of approximately 35 young students from various parts of the world. Joan and Charlie have had students from Iran, France, Germany, Ecuador, Brazil, Denmark and other parts of our old world visiting and staying in their home for periods of time varying from a few days to a year. Joan serves as a co-ordinator for the International Student Service. The most recent tour group, "TEXAS", attended the Junior Quarter Horse National Championship Finals, visited Palo Duro Canyon and the museum in Canyon, toured feedlots and also toured some of the office buildings in Amarillo. The exchanging of ideas and information with these foreign students is quite an experience, and anyone interested in sharing their homes can give Joan a call—sounds like an excellent opportunity to broaden our horizons.

A VERY SPECIAL happy birthday to Kaki Mulherin, who has given her mommy and daddy ten very happy years as of the 15th.

WHILST ALL YOU people are registering your youngsters for school this lovely day, be sure and join your Parent Teacher Association. Dues for the year are one little ol' dollar per parent, and will be one of the best-spent dollars you part with. The only string connected to your dollar is that the PTA wants you as an active member, too. All moneys raised by the PTA goes back into the school for the betterment of our children. Money ain't everything, too, and as mentioned before, the PTA wants you and wants to help you become involved with your school and your community. Try it—you'll like it!

WONDER IF ANYONE will oversleep and forget to send the kiddies you-know-where on Monday, August 21? Just think—this time next week, we will all be back on that old familiar (and in some quarters—welcomed) schedule.

GAY AND HOWARD Cochran and children, Howie and Laura, joined the McGregors for that fun time on Mustang Island and then motored to Matamoros, Mexico. While there they visited the old markets and especially enjoyed dining at one particular restaurant resplendent with that Old Mexico atmosphere and Spanish singers visiting their table. On to Wichita Falls for a wedding and visiting with friends. After visiting Howard's mother in Oklahoma, the Cochrans returned home to entertain house guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Bryce Cochran and children of Midwest City, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. James Callahan of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Shannon Bilbo and daughter, Debbie, of Norman, Oklahoma; and Gayle Harris and children of Oklahoma, converged on the Cochran homestead for a week end of fun and conversing. They particularly enjoyed seeing "TEXAS" and treated the youngsters to a day of discovering Palo Duro Canyon, complete with picnic.

MRS. COCHRAN, WHO has been teaching a third grade class at Gene Howe, is anxious and eager to begin instructing the L/L/D classes this year. The L/L/D program will cover all six grades for the first time.

NEW SECRETARY AT Gene Howe is a lovely lady by the name of Nancy Hoover. Becky Daum, who so ably filled this position the past few years, has moved to California. We wish Becky well in her new endeavors and extend a warm welcome to Mrs. Hoover. Glad to have you aboard.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall and your calls. 352-6053 Troyce

Senior Tours Europe Under 'Aggie' Alias

By LINDA LOCKETT

With the English his favorite people, Paris his favorite city and St. Peter's Cathedral his favorite building, Mike Rinehart, Canyon senior, arrived home from Europe recently full of memories.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rinehart of 5161 Arden Road in Amarillo, Mike toured Europe in a group of 50 through the Foreign Study League.

Earning the nickname "Aggie" from a Texas A&M sweat-shirt he wore during his travels, Mike attended classes on comparative culture and language for half the day and then had time to mingle with the people and go on guided tours.

Mike told his mother who visited Europe three summers ago that his travels were more interesting because of his opportunities to get away from the "tourist traps" and talk to the common people.

While the English people, especially the young, were his favorites, Mike was not impressed with the Germans.

Mike said some Germans are starting a new Nazi party, and some of the old members are proud of their party affiliation.

"The English love Americans—our voices and our sizes," said Mike, who is 6-foot-2 and was too big for the largest size English sweater.

After beginning in Pittsburgh, Penn., Mike's first stop in Europe was Spain, where he visited Madrid and Toledo.

From there he traveled to Italy, where he bought his most treasured memento from the trip—a marble bust of David by Gabrielli, a sculptor over 90-years-old.

"When I saw it, I knew I had to have it," said Mike about the bust, which is supposed to be one of three Gabrielli masterpieces. Another David bust is in a Lisbon museum, and the place of the other is unknown.

Mike later had the bust appraised by a man who marveled at the exactness of Gabrielli's work in copying the original David. Mike said the wrinkles are in perfect symmetrical scale, and the throat blood vessel is said to have been very difficult to sculpture in the particular type of marble.

Unlike the other two sculptures, Mike is set on a separate piece of marble, making it unique.

Mike saw the damaged Pieta, which was curtained off. He said men were working 24 hours a day to try to repair the statue, but the work is difficult because it is hard to match the marble.

About the Sistine Chapel, Mike said, "They are retouching the ceiling. They say they are just cleaning it, but really they are redoing it."

In Rome Mike saw part of the 90 miles of catacombs, and "they're finding more every day," he said. Mike also attended "Aida" at the original ruins of Nero's castle, which reminded him of the outdoor "TEXAS" amphitheater.

Taking a sidetrip to Florence, Mike saw more catacombs and Renaissance castles.

In Austria Mike's group stayed in an isolated castle, the one used in the Warner Brother's movie, "Where Eagles Dare."

Built in 1044, the castle could only be reached by a cable car, which Warner Brothers built to cover the sheer incline of 2300 feet.

Mike said each castle bedroom was a large separate vault with walls covered by tapestries. The bed he slept in was made about 1300.

Near Werfen, the castle was a two-mile hike from Mike's classes and was 10 miles from Hitler's old house in the Bavarian Alps.

With an instructor who was a mountain-climber, Mike climbed the Watterhorn in Germany, but did not attempt the steep incline to the Austrian castle.

In France, Mike got to attend church services in Notre Dame, with which he was very impressed.

Although he got sick and spent three days in bed, Paris was Mike's favorite city. One of his vivid memories is of a full moon straight above the Seine River, as he was going on a boat ride in Paris.

Mike ate at two of the most well-known world restaurants in Paris. Laughing about the 16 courses that took about 3 hours to eat, Mike said he did not even know what he was eating.

One startling sight in Paris was a completely nude model posing at the Place de Concorde, said Mike.

Talking about the Folies Bergere in Paris, Mike said each girl's dress cost about $3000 and at the end of an act one girl came out whose beaded train covered the entire stage.

Mike crossed the English Channel in a hovercraft, one of four in the world, in the worst weather they had had in 15 years. The hovercraft, which skims the water, hit a log, and they had to go back to France before they finally made it to Dover, England.

England, being the last country he visited, was fresh in Mike's memory. He told about the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace when a soldier "stomped" a man picking up his camera. Mike explained the man was in the line of march, and the elite soldiers can be court-martialed for stepping out of line.

They are also not allowed to talk, but one whispered to Mike and his friends as they wondered about his rifle aloft, not thinking he would answer.

Mike stayed at Surrey University dormitories in Gifford and toured Windsor Castle, Stonehenge and Stratford-on-Avon.

Mike thought Stratford was "very commercialized" and added that Shakespeare must have been small, as the top of the doors in his house only came to Mike's chin.

Mike saw Henry VIII's wives' clothing, which were beaded in jewels and some of those of Henry, who wore clothes for one week and then threw them away, said Mike.

In London, Mike rode the subway, saw the "freaks" at Piccadilly Circus, shopped for clothes on King's Road, toured the National Gallery and went to the famous wax museum, where people appear lifelike in wax.

At Drury Lane Theater, Mike saw "Gone with the Wind," with Harve Presnell playing Rhett Butler.

Mike said the London and Paris theaters try to out-do each other, so that a real train came onto the stage in "Gone with the Wind."

Though not on the tour guide, Mike also saw nude women protesting in front of 10 Downing Street, the Prime Minister's residence.

Mike is planning to return to Europe next summer as a counselor along with Mrs. Jane Westberry, Canyon High English teacher, who helped him plan his trip this summer.

Mike's mother said one of the first things Mike said when he got home was that he wanted to redecorate his room. "Things just don't look as good here, after seeing Europe," Mike explained.

After visiting Rome, Paris, Vienna and London, how can a Texas Panhandle boy find happiness back home? In Mike's case, it's by planning another trip for next summer.

Canyon High senior, Michael Rinehart, just returned from a six-week European trip, holds a marble bust of David by an Italian sculptor, Gabrielli. The bust is one of three masterpieces by the nonagenarian. One bust is in a Lisbon museum, and the whereabouts of the other is unknown.

Riders Host Grad Students

By MARY JO GRIFFEN

HELLO AGAIN FROM our way. This has undoubtedly been the shortest summer vacation ever recorded. We've certainly enjoyed it and would love to have another month before school starts. But here we go back to school today. We do look forward to a good year with eager students and our great teaching faculty. Seems we have news from all over this week. Thanks for all the calls and we are happy to include you in our area.

LAST WEEK GUESTS in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Brashears were Charlene's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Davis and Sondra from Canadian. Returning to Canadian with the Davises were Cynthia, Carla, and Lisa Brashears. They visited several days and their parents brought them home later in the week.

MRS. PAUL NAGUNST from Canyon Drive in south Amarillo called to tell me the most delightful news from their household. Their daughter, Sandy, was the winner Saturday night of the 20 gallon fish aquarium given away in the Western Plaza Mall. They really could use it since their old one was kinda out of sorts and this one is such a nice, pretty one. Mrs. Nagunst was also in the winning circle Saturday! We met during The News subscription contest last spring.

ANOTHER COUPLE I met during the contest is Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Angel of Rockwell Road. They returned Friday night from a great five-week vacation to Alaska and back by way of the U.S. west coast. They traveled over 8,000 miles by auto and more than 1,000 by boat. The scenery was the most outstanding to them. The mountains and ice glaciers were simply beautiful. And they were just a few miles from an earthquake; close enough to feel the earth move under them. Also while they were there a sister of Mrs. Angel's, Mrs. Bess Johnston, passed away in Houston where she made her home. Mrs. Johnston had been a resident of the Amarillo area for a number of years. Our sincere sympathy to the Angel family.

A LITTLE NOTE of cheer to Joseph Puccio who is ill with pneumonia. We hope Jody has a speedy recovery.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MARY Neal Henry and family from Happy on getting moved into their new home. May all your days there be happy ones.

MR. AND MRS. Bert Roanhaus are vacationing in California. They will be visiting with Bert's family and will attend the wedding of a brother while there. Sightseeing is on the schedule for them too.

SYMPATHY IS EXTENDED to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Simpson in the death of Gene's brother, Mr. Earl Simpson of Hale County.

DON AND JEARENE Cartwright and children, Tiffany, Bryan, and Leslie were in the Dallas-Fort Worth area last week. They visited with relatives on both sides of the family and with friends. Also they went to Six Flags and the Wax Museum. They got home with time to rest a bit before returning to work. Their new house is looking real nice and getting closer to completion every day. Lots of eager anticipation there to get to move in.

AL AND WILMA Tune and children, Pam, Tommy, Al, and Ingrid of Fort Worth were here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.K. Smiley and sister Elaine last weekend. They were enroute to Red River, New Mexico to spend the week and will be back by this way later this week and will visit in the Smiley home again. The Smiley's drove down to Plainview Sunday afternoon to see Mrs. Smiley's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Stockton from Breckenridge who was visiting with her daughter there. Also they spent the night with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nicky Smiley.

GUESTS IN THE home of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Stark and family Saturday were R.A.'s sister, Mrs. Eileen Anglin and children, Kelly and Kevin from Gunnison, Utah. They went on to Tulsa to visit their mother and then to Silverton where a sister lives. Sheila Stark went with them and will return later this week when they come back for a longer visit.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO-

MORROW August 18 to Susan Puccio, August 19 to Brent Leith, and August 21 to Shawn Tankersley. Have a great day!

VICKIE OWEN OF Lake Charles, Louisiana, was an overnight guest of Pat Keith last week. The Owen family formerly lived in this area.

DR. AND MRS. John Rider had a little get together honoring the graduate students of Dr. Rider from the summer school session. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mays, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brewster, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Carter all of Amarillo. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Norris and Kim of Plainview, Lila Williams of Big Springs, Tim Williams of Texarkana, Ark., and Connie Hildebrand from San Antonio. Dr. and Mrs. Alfonso Lucero and sons Steven, Andrew, and Matthew from Johnson City, Tenn., were overnight guests of the Riders.

AUSTIN AND PATSY Bowes and daughters Lynn and Ann have recently returned from their vacation. They made a circle through the southern states along the coast touring New Orleans and on to Disneyworld in Florida. They had a nice stay at Fernadina Beach, Fla., where they did a lot of fishing. Austin went deep sea fishing. Georgia, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma were all viewed with delight on the way home. They had a great trip. This Saturday Lynn goes to Lubbock to move into the dorm and start her freshman year at Texas Tech. Good luck Lynn.

A WOMAN WENT to the office of the local paper and said she would like to put a notice in about her husband's disappearance. "How much will it cost?" she asked. "We charge fifty cents an inch," the editor said. "Oh, I can't afford that kind of money," said the woman. "My husband is six feet tall!"

THANKS TO MY typist this week.

WT Nursing Program Moves Into High Gear

By JUNE DAYEN

The new Baccalaureate Program in Nursing at West Texas State University is ready to shift into high gear when the fall semester begins on Sept. 5. The funds are there, the facilities are there, and the know-how is there.

Still needed to complete the program are the 343 students expected to enroll in the program at fall registration. Eighteen sophomore students had already been enrolled in the course this summer, but by September that figure is expected to swell to 100 freshmen, 75 sophomores, 18 juniors, and 150 registered nurses working part-time and full-time to complete degree requirements.

By 1975 the total enrollment is projected to reach 500. And not a moment too soon to help answer growing demands for nurses with the baccalaureate degree. According to the best available statistics, the number of nurses graduating with degrees must be increased five times over the 1966 totals to meet 1975 goals.

One of the problems, then, of administrators in charge will be to produce more nurses without sacrificing the standards set for entry and graduation in the field.

Major decisions in getting the complex program rolling smoothly are being made by Mrs. Eunice M. King, now head of the Nursing Department at West Texas State University. She came highly qualified by her position as Director of Nursing for the Amarillo Hospital District and office as president of the State Board of Nursing Examiners for the last two years.

Mrs. King stresses the importance of personal requirements for young men and women entering the nursing field. They must have strong motivation to help along with qualities of good health and impeccable physical appearance—an image that will be enhanced, incidentally, by the crisp maroon and white uniforms they will wear as student nurses in the WT program. Alertness, intelligence, good judgment, and sense of responsibility are also necessary.

But some financial assistance is available for those qualified who face difficulty in paying the bill for their education. Scholarship funds amounting to $20,455 and student loan funds of $16,978 have been awarded WTSU by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. In addition, the 62nd Texas Legislature provided $20,000 for tuition scholarships for nursing students at WTSU. These funds are allotted through the Financial Aid Department at the university.

The program itself operates under an HEW grant of $558,716, of which $129,744 will be available this year. Moreover, Capital Grant funds have been awarded in the amount of $25,442 for 1972. These are special grants authorized under the Nurse Training Act of 1971, and allocated on the basis of student enrollment to improve nursing programs.

Students will attend nursing classes on the third floor of the Old Administration Building on the WTSU campus, but clinical facilities and in some cases libraries will be used at various area hospitals and treatment centers. Among those cooperating are Neblett Hospital in Canyon, Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital and the Psychiatric Pavilion, High Plains Baptist Hospital, St. Anthony's Hospital, Veterans Administration Hospital, Kilgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, and the Amarillo State Center for Human Development.

All the facts add up to an impressive answer to the mounting demands for more and better nurses springing from many sources. The much publicized population explosion—a 35 percent growth in the last 18 years—is a primary factor. Another reason is the fact that people are living longer—the nation now has 20 million persons over 65. And, thanks to health and hospital insurance plans and government-sponsored health programs, people take better care of themselves and expect better facilities.

Reduced Tillage Urged Here

Three years ago, "minimum tillage" hardly existed in Randall County farmers' vocabularies. And, nowhere in the county was it practiced.

Today more than a thousand acres of land here have been subjected to less of the plow.

And, the local Soil Conservation Service would like to see more acreage planted under minimum tillage tenets.

Don Dolle of the SCS urged farmers to become acquainted with the advantages of minimum tillage and to implement the practice on their farms.

He anticipates almost 2,000 acres of farmland to be worked this year through minimum tillage.

"Economics and conservation demands of recent years have prompted many efforts to reduce or eliminate tillage," Dolle said. "Refinements in chemical herbicides during the past decade, along with the development of no-tillage planting equipment have removed the major barriers that have tied tillage to the farming scene for centuries."

Dolle said there are many advantages to the minimum tillage method of farming.

"It saves time," he said. "More acres can be planted during an optimum time interval."

In addition, it lowers production costs by substantially reducing labor and machinery costs. Minimum tillage helps control water erosion and reduces wind erosion since more residues are left on the soil surface.

Minimum tillage also conserves soil moisture since tillage stirs up moisture and causes evaporation.

"Research has shown that minimum tillage can improve soil tilth, reduce compaction, lower the bulk density and resistance to root penetration, increase water infiltration and improve aeration," Dolle said. "The added cover provides a more attractive shelter for wildlife to nest and reproduce."

Dolle said several area farmers, including R.D. Friemel, Willie Wieck, J.W. Spencer and Fred Begert, are using some minimum tillage on their farms.

Four students from Canyon have been initiated into Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology, with active membership in the West Texas State University Chapter.

They are Phyllis A. Goetsch, 19 Country Club Drive; Mary Jaynet Killebrew, 2707 Sixth Avenue; Dan R. Pavillard, 2405-B Seventh Avenue; and Kevan M. Prati, Route 2.

Permits Hit $218,385 For July

Building permits issued by the city during July soared 100 percent over the same period last year, according to figures released by building inspector E.A. Collie.

A total of $218,385 in construction was tallied in the permits, a rise of almost $100,000 over last year's total of $122,875.

Building permits in 1970 tallied only $25,075.

The bulk of the increase noted in July's records was recorded by Apostolic Faith Outreach, Inc., which began construction on a Bible education building at a cost of $155,500.

Three residence construction projects were also recorded in July. Two will cost $23,000 and one will be $15,000.

Several remodelings and storage building constructions were also reported.

Palisades Palaver Bridge Nears Completion

BY VICKI HOOKER

IF ANY OF you think you are not spoiled by our pleasant Panhandle weather, then go to Dallas for a few days. It didn't take me very long to decide that we definitely have the advantage — weatherwise. When we drove in Tuesday afternoon it was 100 degrees and it finally cooled off to 80 degrees that night! But all in all we had a very good time with our four Junior Volunteers from Northwest Texas Hospital at their sixth annual state convention and picked up a few new ideas for our own organization, but it was good to get home again!

BY THE WAY, if you are interested in volunteering in volunteering on Saturdays or after school this fall, we'd love to have you. Contact Mrs. Ruth Bryan at 376-4431 ext. 221. Ladies, that goes for you, too!

EXCITEMENT FILLED THE pollution-free air of our canyon last week as two young ladies from the Palisades were married. Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Johnson, and Sam Richard were united on the fifth in the Memorial Park Rose Garden. After a honeymoon in Colorado they returned to their home in Amarillo. Many congratulations to the happy couple and to both their parents!

MR. AND MRS. Paul McDonald's daughter, Caprice, and Rick Cook tied the knot on the tenth in Amarillo. A reception at the McDonald's followed. Caprice and Rick traveled to Little Rock, Arkansas, to see Rick's family. They, too, will live in Amarillo. We wish these newlyweds all the happiness possible, too!

WE'D LIKE TO express a note of sympathy to Lum and Lena Edwards. Their granddaughter's husband, Jackson Taylor, 23, died August 6 in a motorcycle accident in Georgia. The motorcycle he was riding struck the guard rail on an expressway and he was killed instantly.

SOME OF YOU may remember the Edwards' granddaughter, Gay. She and her child lived with Lum and Lena several years ago. She had only been in Georgia with her husband one week when to accident occurred. She is in the process of moving back to Texas now. Gay is the daughter of Gloria Lane of Lubbock. (Mrs. Lane is the Edwards' daughter.)

THE PRECINCT 1 Volunteer Fire Department met last week in the Lake Tanglewood Clubhouse. Topics of discussion were training sessions, fund raising projects, a building for the truck and a social for the members and their families. No details on any of these subjects were available, but I think these men should be commended for the work they've done so far. It's comforting to think that at least we have some protection in case of fire.

I GUESS Mr. and Mrs. Eddi Jeffers and their two children finally got moved to their new home in Washburn. Mrs. Jeffers did not call, but I saw the U-Haul trailers, etc. there last Sunday. We certainly hated to see them go and hope our new neighbors will be as friendly as the Jeffers!

SPEAKING OF NEIGHBORS who have moved, Irene Parker called the other day to say they haven't forgotten us! She and Jack are presently enjoying the company of their daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. R.H. Miller and their daughter Mary Mike, from Omaha. They are here to attend the wedding of their other daughter, Terry Lee, who will be married the 25th. Their visit turned out to be a small family reunion as they were joined at the Parker's by their daughter-in-law from Roswell, Mrs. David Miller and her two-month-old son, David Jr. The Parkers boast David Jr. is their only great grandchild!

IRENE ALSO SAID in talking with her that Roberta Carthel went into the hospital last Sunday complaining of pains

Marty And Flying Pattie Win

By TOOTIE BYBEE
HELLO AGAIN FROM out this way. Hope everything is just great with you all. It has been quite a week for me. Of course, it was all fun and joy.

HAD A LONG nice chat with our friend and neighbor Jo Ann Mitchell the other day. Guess you all know she has been out of commission since breaking her foot. Well, glad to say the cast is off and she's really taking advantage of the situation of being able to get around a little bit again. She said daughter number one, Debbie, and husband had moved to LaFayette, La. They flew down on the plane and then settled in. Seems Debbie's husband has a good job and good prospects there. They have traveled over to New Orleans and taken in the sights and all since being there.

good job and good prospects there. They have traveled over to New Orleans and taken in the sights and all since being there.

THE WHITEHEADS WENT on a little trip this Friday. They motored over to Ft. Worth to visit with some old and good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hail, who recently moved there. Mike said they all lived in the Hail's pool while there as it was quite hot and humid. They went to the river and rode the river boats and paddle boats. While there Mike Hail turned twelve and they went to the Pizza Parlor to celebrate his birthday. Shelley and Beth enjoyed each other's company also. They came back Sunday, and Monday morning Spooky left with his grandmother and grandfather Whitehead to travel above her right hip. Tests were run for kidney infection but were negative. The day Irene called she said Roberta was feeling better, even though they had found nothing wrong at the time, and that by the time the paper came out she may be home again. We certainly hope so anyway!

Cheerleaders Win Awards

West Texas State University cheerleaders received seven honors at the recent Southern Methodist University Cheerleading Clinic in Dallas.

The WTSU squad, in competition with other major colleges and universities in the South and Southwest, won the Coca-Cola Award, sponsored by the National Cheerleaders Association and the soft drink company. It was the first time that WTSU won the award.

Films of the WTSU cheerleaders and other district winners will be sent to the Coca-Cola company for national judging. The winning school will get an award for cheerleading equipment.

The WTSU cheerleaders also won the Spirit Stick twice and brought the trophy home. The competing teams were judged each day on two yells. In this competition WTSU won four superior ribbons and one excellent.

Cheerleaders for 1972-73 are Orinda Eikman of Childress, Terri Roark of Vega, Carolyn Roney of El Paso, Jane VanDever of Sweetwater, Chris Gerald and Greg Tung, both of Canyon, and John Jenkins and Stan Raef, both of Amarillo.

to Tinker Field Air Force Base at Oklahoma City. They are going to tour all points of interest and be on their way back in time for school registration.

SCHOOL, WHAT'S THAT?? HAVE TO TELL you about our little trip. The Tow's and Bybee's scooted down to Mills Canyon in New Mexico for a few days of motorcycling and fun. We camped out under the "Big Top" and had so very much fun. We were a dirty grimy bunch when we returned, but very happy with the world. Nothing like complete exhaustion to make you appreciate the world around you and go to sleep in peace. Thanks to my sweet sister-in-law for taking care of our doggies while we were away.

THOSE QUARTER HORSE kids have been at it again. At Perryton Sunday Marty Johnson out-showed them all. In an especially large number of exhibitors she really got with it. She won 1st in all age mares, 1st in Showmanship, 3rd in Western Pleasure, 3rd in Horsemanship, 4th in reining and won all around saddle. Most important she won her Youth Champion AQHA, which really proves what I've always said, Marty is really a champion teen ager. Steve Ross placed in the top ten mares with his two year old. Wanted to give Marty's horse some credit as I know she is really some horse. Her name is Flying Pattie and she is only 4 years old and a real "Champ."

GEE, I KNOW this is so short but we just got back Monday night and this has to be in Tuesday at noon so I'm so very rushed for time I haven't had to much time to talk with any of you. So, call and I'll sure get it in next week.

ONE LAST WORD: To all the kiddies in Mescalero Park: It has been a great summer and lots of fun for you all. Long lazy days of sun and fun. Now get in there and make that school year the best of your whole life. See ya in school.

Young Golfers Prepare For Odessa Tourney

Watch Out For Food Poisoning

Summer blazes with outings, picnics, barbecues — and food poisoning.

"Foods can look appetizing, smell good and even taste delicious yet still cause illness," Mrs. Becky Hall, County Home Demonstration Agent, said.

"Poor or improper handling of food in the home is the major cause of food poisoning outbreaks," noted Mrs. Hall. "Most types of food poisoning aren't fatal and normally result from two bacterial organisms: staphylococcus and salmonella."

According to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, thorough hand washing before handling any food is one of the best and simplest precautions against contamination. Individuals who are once infected with the salmonella bacteria may become carriers of the infection for many months, even though they look and feel healthy.

"You can easily pick up the bacteria while handling raw vegetables, meats and poultry and then introduce it into sandwiches, salads, custards and other prepared foods," the specialist said.

She pointed out that salmonella feed on protein foods and to a lesser degree on starch. The temperature for optimum growth is around 95 degrees, but the bacteria can grow at room temperature and can even survive temperatures as high as 140 degrees for short periods of time.

"Freezing doesn't kill salmonella but simply transforms it into a dormant state. So don't thaw frozen meats and poultry at room temperature. Instead, thaw them in the refrigerator, under cool running water (in freezer wrappings), or by cooking them frozen."

Mrs. Clyatt said that cooking temperatures of 165 degrees destroy salmonella organisms, so any food cooked to this temperature is free of the bacteria, unless recontaminated by the food handler.

To prevent outbreaks of salmonella, she advised washing hands thoroughly before handling any food.

"Keep drainboards and utensils clean. Even small spots of food left on drainboards may harbor salmonella that will start to multiply at room temperature."

She said to refrigerate food promptly to prevent bacteria from growing. Cook poultry and ground meat until well done; 165 degrees F. kills the bacteria. Meats that aren't ground will have no more than surface contamination so you can safely serve them rare.

"To avoid recontaminating cooked foods for storing," she added, "cool quickly and keep cold. Thoroughly wash all foods which are eaten raw."

Capers Host State President

The Canyon Capers held their regular dance Monday night at the Activities Center with Knox Day calling. They welcomed Red and Wanda Hobbes, co-presidents of the State Federation of Square and Round Dancers. Visitors from Amarillo were also present.

The next regular dance will be Monday, Aug. 28, at 8 p.m. at the WTSU Activities Center.

Cruelty To Animals Seen Around Canyon

By LINDA LOCKETT

A woman's cat is shot in the leg.

Another woman's puppy is shot twice at close range in the paw, and her cat disappears the same day.

And another woman's two cats are caught in a trap, and one is killed.

A mourning dove is found shot and fluttering helplessly on a busy street.

How do these circumstances relate? All have happened recently in and around Canyon.

One of the women, whose neighbor's pets have also been hurt and killed, wonders, "What pleasure does someone get out of harming a defenseless animal? I guess someone is just taking out his frustrations vicariously on animals."

She then cites the recent incidents of cows being driven into a barn and burned in Dalhart and boxer puppies tarred in Amarillo.

And she mentions about 15 meadowlarks, which help her garden, being found in a ditch "riddled with BB pellets."

"This is another sign of our violent times today," she declares.

The woman whose cats were trapped expresses shock at other people's disrespect for private property. "Because a man did not want cats on his property, he baited a trap with sardines, so they would come to his yard; and then he took them out in the country to kill them."

She said when she talked to the cat-napper, he did not seem to care that one of the cats was very smart and "looked after" his five-year-old son. The only thing that seemed to bother him, she said, was when she told him he broke a law.

According to Article 1374 of the Texas Penal Code, it is unlawful to kill or needlessly mutilate an animal. Also, it is unlawful to willfully overdrive, overload, overwork, torture, torment, unnecessarily or cruelly beat, deprive of necessary sustenance, cruelly abandon or carry in or upon any vehicle in a cruel or inhuman manner any animal.

An offender may be fined up to $200.

For income-producing animals, such as horses, cattle, mules, asses, sheep, swine and goats, the fine for needlessly killing or poisoning is 2-10 years in the penitentiary if the animal was worth more than $50, 2 years and/or a fine up to $500 if the animal was worth under $50 and more than $5 and a fine not exceeding $500 if the animal was worth under $5.

Those charged with violating Article 1374 will appear in a Justice of the Peace Court or a Corporation Court in Amarillo.

If someone sees a person breaking the law concerning animals, he may file against that person. M.W. Buckles, head of the Amarillo animal shelter, said that law enforcement officers could take action themselves, but are usually reluctant to do so.

Mary Morin with the Amarillo Humane Society said that only the one who sees an animal being mistreated can file suit.

Buckles warned anyone considering filing against a person who does not leave enough water and food for an animal not to feed the animal themselves. "If you're watching and then feed the animal yourself, you've just ruined your case," he said.

If juveniles are involved in mistreating animals, the situation becomes stickier, and parents may be talked to or juvenile authorities called in.

Dr. J.L. Markham, Canyon veterinarian and animal shelter director, said the problem of cruelty to animals is "perturbing." He mentioned during and after bird and quail hunting season, there are a lot more bird dogs in the pound.

"Their owners let them go because they didn't perform right; or maybe they did, but the person doesn't want to take care of the dog for 10 more months. Some have even been known to shoot the dogs," said Dr. Markham.

"Most good bird dog owners don't spare any cost in taking care of their dogs," he added.

Mrs. Morin said her Humane Society office gets many calls everyday concerning animal cruelty, and often people are unintentionally mistreating their pet.

As examples, she mentioned people who leave an animal outside without food or water for long periods, in rainy weather or in the hot sun with no shade.

Pets left in cars with the windows rolled up on hot days are also being mistreated, usually unintentionally.

Mrs. Morin said she has been receiving more calls recently about horses, especially Shetland ponies, which some people treat like backyard pets, not realizing the special treatment they need.

A woman who lives out in the country said she saw a terrier die within three days when its owner abandoned it by her gate. As if to relieve himself of blame, he left a small dish of water and food, which were soon gone.

The woman's children tried to rescue the dog, but it tried to bite them and ran back out to the fence, chasing each car with the hope it was his owner.

The woman points out how much more humane it would have been for the owner to have taken the pet to the animal shelter, where someone might have taken it or it would have been killed humanely, instead of being run over or starved to death.

People in Canyon that catch or see stray animals, whether or not they seem to belong to someone, should call the police, and animal control officer, Lt. Tom Rolan, will try to solve the problem.

Rolan said he usually receives one to five calls a day about animals, but he does not pick up an animal with each call.

"Some dogs know every police car in Canyon and stay a block or two ahead of them," explained Al Stewart, police chief and former animal control officer.

Stewart also said in July and August many female dogs come in season, and male dogs roam around in packs.

According to a city ordinance, pets in Canyon are not supposed to run at large but must be contained on leashes or within fences. This includes cats.

Stewart pointed out that according to another ordinance, the police have the right to shoot unlicensed, unvaccinated dogs running at large. Instead of using shotguns, they use a tranquilizer gun.

A few times, dogs have been killed by the tranquilizer, because its effect depends on the dog's age, health condition and other factors. In fact, Stewart, when he was the animal control officer, unintentionally killed Rolan's dog with the tranquilizer gun.

The animals that Rolan catches are taken to Dr. Markham's veterinary clinic and animal shelter, where those with tags are kept at least five days before being killed. Animals without tags are kept at least three days. People who claim their pets are required to pay a $2 misdemeanor fine for the city plus a fee to Dr. Markham.

Rolan and Stewart said that Canyon residents may have traps and catch animals, but they are not supposed to dispose of the animals themselves. Also, it is against the law to fire any weapon, including pellet, air and BB guns, within the city limits.

They said Canyon has a tremendous amount of stray cats, and they have put six cat traps out. Several years ago, the city cat traps were given to private citizens, and about two or three have never been turned in, Rolan said.

"Strays are not hard to handle, but we really need people's cooperation in taking care of their own pets," said Rolan.

In fact, an owner of a pet which is running at large, especially habitually, may be served an animal summons to appear at municipal court, said Stewart. Upon conviction, a person may be fined $1-200.

Canyon police do use shotguns to shoot one group of animals—skunks. "Even if it's two or three in the morning and we might wake up someone, we're going to shoot a skunk, rather than take the chance of it being rabid and biting another animal," Rolan explained.

Any time an officer fires his weapon, he is supposed to put it down on his report, in case someone calls to ask for an explanation of shooting.

"We're right in the middle of two sides of people—those who may not like a certain type of animal and those who do," said Stewart.

"Really, animal control is not a police function, but in Canyon we do not have the money for regular animal control authorities," Stewart added.

Meanwhile, the animal control and cruelty problem continues, probably because of two groups of people: those who do not control their pets and those who think they have the right to mistreat or kill defenseless animals.

Dr. J.L. Markham, Canyon veterinarian and animal shelter director, examines a mourning dove, found shot near the Canyon Square. Dr. Markham said although the wound was fairly large, the bird had a fairly good chance for recovery because birds have a tremendous recovery rate from infection.

the "Mustard Seed."

SANDY RAILSBACK WAS unable to be in the musical because of her illness, but Sandy is home now and on the road to recovery.

GUESTS SUNDAY EVENING at the musical included Eutha Hamblen and Florene Moore of Canyon and Mrs. A.C. Walker and Mrs. Tackitt and several of their family of Panhandle.

THE LAY WITNESS Mission is coming up at the Baptist Church in Happy on September 1, 2 and 3rd. A twenty-four hour prayer vigil at the church will precede the mission.

THE METHODIST HAD a picnic in Ceta Canyon on Sunday afternoon. Billy Jackson and Eddie Wilson gave a history and devotional everyone liked, pitched horseshoes or played volleyball. Eugene Jackson and Bob McDonald won the horseshoe pitching contest.

JAY FREEMAN WAS honored with a tea on Saturday by the Happy Jaycee-Ettes at Della Venhaus's home. Jay was Texas Outstanding Jaycee-Ette president in 1971-72 and Texas Outstanding Jaycee-Ette the previous year. Congratulations, Jay! And sorry I didn't make it. I had company all afternoon.

PHIL BRADLEY OF Gruver stopped by to check on our progress. Then Leona Henry and Alice McGehee drove out. Suzanne and Adren Cunningham and Charlie Tate were here later.

IRENE USELDING GAVE Leona McFarland a birthday party Friday afternoon. Irene served cake, ice cream and coffee to Mike Pulsipher, Willa Elliott, Mildred Middleton, Jerry Haland, Joyce Wheat, Anna Bee Robinson, Mary Jane Miller, Willie Butler, Irene Hardaway, Pat Hargrave, and Ruby Vise also sent cards.

LEONA AND MERLE McFarland, Si and Willa Elliott, Lou Rose and Earl Bell Cosby, Mattie Ruth and Edgar Robinson, and Millie and Willard Middleton went to the Country Barn Saturday night.

NOVALENE and John Toles have been seeing the sights in Salt Lake City (and floating on the lake) and on their tour of Alaska. They say the glaciers are fantastic from the air and they also saw them from ground level. They've toured Mount Alyeska and Portage Glacier, Fairbanks, Anchorage, and have seen Mount McKinley. The whole trip sounds fabulous! Thanks for thinking of me!

I READ IN Anna Bee that Mary and LaVelle Phifer have adopted a Baby Girl. That is news! And Congratulations! Doris was born July 17, and already has two brothers, Gary, 6, and David, 8. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Miller.

HELENE MCFARLAND CALLED a few weeks ago. They are home from New York. Gwen lost his eye, but they immediately put in an eye socket and Helene says he is doing very well. The eye that got the weed poisoning was also the one on which Gwen had had surgery. The most pleasant surprise was a very large group of people, family and friends, were gathered at the airport to meet them when they arrived.

MELTON AND PAT Schaefer have moved into the Montgomery home. Pat was severely burned on her arms and legs by a flaming skillet of grease last week. Grandparents have been baby sitting.

BROTHER AND MRS. Paul Heil, Shannon, Paula and Shawn have been vacationing in Colorado at Paul's mother's cabin. They fished and just rested. Phoebe said, "No telephone." Sounded peaceful.

ADREN CUNNINGHAM AND his partner won the team roping at the Silverton rodeo last weekend.

BILT RITE FARMS held a swine meeting on August 8th. Dr. Bill Thomas, Extension Swine Specialist, Texas A&M University, discussed the value of a testing program. Mike Henderson covered maintenance of herd health and sanitation. Tom Eckhart from Ames, Iowa, gave a demonstration on using the Anscan ultrasonic machine to estimate back-fat thickness and loin-eye area or muscling in live animals. Bob Robinson was interviewing for KGNC.

BILT RITE FARMS showed and won the Grand Champion Gilt at the West Texas Duroc Breeders Show and Sale at Lubbock last Saturday. Andy Rahlf placed fourth with his boar and both Grand Champion and Reserve Champion came out of the same class as Andy's boar so that is really good too.

WE WERE ALL saddened by the death of Emmie White. Services were held Friday morning in the Methodist Church and burial was in the Happy Cemetery. Emmie and Alti have been the custodians of the Baptist Church for a long time so we feel as if Emmie belonged to the Baptists, too.

EMMIE WAS THE Worthy Matron of Happy Chapter when I joined Eastern Star. We have many pleasant memories. Our sincerest sympathy to Alti, Faye Ann and family.

WANDA AND ROBERT Ferguson from up near Sunray came to the funeral Friday. I really enjoyed visiting with them. Robert is a county commissioner and so I hit him up for two miles of pavement. He laughed and said, "You might as well, everyone else does."

THERE ARE ONLY three or four miles of this county line road left in Randall County that aren't paved (on the east end.) I've been going that same road to Hereford for years, too, but I don't actually know where the line is over there.) Cecil Henry used to say years ago that this dirt was "worn out" and that it was hard to make in to a good road. So, how about that few miles of pavement, Commissioners?

MARLIN SLUDER CALLED Maureen Allison (Ex-Student Association Secretary) from Kansas City, Missouri to confirm the Homecoming date of September 29th. He plans to be here. Marlin is with Farmland Industries in Kansas City.

KELLY AND JO ANNA Hurst are visiting their grandmother in Omaha, Nebraska.

JIM AND EDDIE Cope have purchased a trailer home and moved to Floydada. I'll surely miss that Joda and Jeffna.

JACKIE AND DAVID Matthews and their two year old daughter, Brandy, have moved again this time to the John Butler Farm. Frances and Red Matthews helped them move and Frances called Sunday from David's. I teased her that she'd be visiting in this area more often now. Brandy is the only grandchild and the only great niece in this family.

DONNA AND DEBRA Magness flew home Monday from Houston. Don has to take more tests on Tuesday and Wednesday.

day. Don and Mary Ann plan to be home sometime Thursday.

MILDRED AND DON Carr and their Jim have been visiting Vera and Bill Eubanks. Mildred and Jim came Monday for the National Finals of the American Junior Quarter Horse Association at the Bill Cody Arena in Amarillo. Don flew in Friday in time to be present when Jim won third in the finals in the cutting horse division. Course that's the Bill Eubanks grandson. The Carr's returned home (down by Fort Worth on Sunday.)

GARY CULP and Becky Helen Dunlap were married in Floydada Saturday afternoon. I hope you read about that beautiful wedding in last Sunday's Canyon News. Among those from Happy who attended were Bertie Culp, Myra Nell and Everett Culp and Vickie (of course), Lee and Karleen Moore, Mary Jane Miller, Jody and Robert Lee and Bob, Susan Rahlf, C.J. and Camilla Greenfield Carr, Anna Bee Robinson, Acie Dell Boyd, Viola Buchanan, Eula Hayes, Marvel and John Marshall and Ann Lovese and George White and Nancy Bob Robinson. Over thirty five attended the rehearsal supper on Friday night at the Carriage House in Lubbock.

JEANNE PARKER WAS eleven years old on August 6, but the next day, Andi Payne, Genie Jackson, Marta Donnell and Kathy Phillips helped her celebrate with a swimming party at the Canyon Pool and then a wienner roast at Roadside Park.

JEANNE PARKER SPENT from Tuesday until Friday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woods of Canyon.

AT THE swimming pool, Nancy Parker visited with a group from the First United Methodist Church in Oklahoma City. They were on a "mystery Tour" and no one in the group knew where they were going (except a few. Sounded unusual. They were bound for "Texas" that night in Palo Duro Canyon.

I OWE SOME apologies so I may as well get it over with. That was Linda Schrib that went to Goriotta with Maureen Allison and Willie Butler. Sorry about that. My mind (and body) have been so tired that I'm not sure I've even signed my name right. That bunch just knows this column when they see it.

AND JESSIE CLOE Lane went to Colorado to see her brother, Brice. I should have shut up right there. Of course, Brice is Brice Payne. Both the Paynes and the Mahlers are a very fine family and so maybe they'll forgive me that one. Who knows they may get a chance to get it back on me.

RUBY VISE WAS hostess to the Ester Sunday School class on Tuesday morning. Ruby Oller, year book chairman, planned the class year books.

L.S. SLIM JOHNSTON died Monday afternoon, August 14th, and this area lost a great man. Slim had gained fame and recognition as a sheriff, leader, the head of a family, friend, and benefactor. Slim helped with every funeral. I've seen him standing in the snow or in the rain with his hat in his hand. Never heard him complain about a service he performed. . . and they were many. The Lord must have surely needed a top ranking Sheriff and gentleman somewhere because He took the greatest one He could find. Slim will be hard to replace as a sheriff, impossible to replace as a man. Our sincerest sympathy to Flossie and Juanita and Lewel, Harold Dean, and Bob and Faye Johnston. We'll all miss him for a long time.

I READ A SIGN recently that said, "If you want your prayers answered, when you get off your knees, hustle!" I liked that!

SEE YOU in Happy!

Amarillo Man Gets Probated Sentence

Anthony Paul Penna of Amarillo received a probated sentence Monday afternoon in 47th District Court after pleading guilty to a misdemeanor charge of receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $5 and under $50.

Judge E.E. "Gene" Jordan fined Penna $1 and sentenced him to a year in jail, probated for two years.

Earlier in the day, Penna was on trial in Canyon on a felony charge of receiving and concealing stolen property.

He was charged with receiving and concealing 100 cartons of cigarettes on Dec. 22, 1971.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said witnesses called during the felony trial included Doyle Burt, a local merchant, and Bob Bouyea of north of Canyon.

Burt testified that Penna approached him last summer desiring to sell cigarettes and other merchandise, Dowlen said. Burt said he told late Sheriff Slim Johnston of the offer and Johnston authorized him to purchase the merchandise.

He testified that just before Christmas 1971, Penna sold him

100 cartons of cigarettes and that he again turned them over to Johnston.

Bouyea testified that he had accompanied Penna to Canyon with the cigarettes in the summer of 1971 rather than at Christmas 1971.

Under cross-examination by Dowlen, it was revealed that Bouyea had signed two sworn affidavits stating that he had accompanied Penna to Canyon in December 1971.

He said he had been mistaken when he had made the sworn statements concerning the time of year he accompanied Penna to Canyon.

"At that time, Judge Jordan requested that Mr. Bouyea be presented to the Randall County Grand Jury for possible indictment on a perjury charge or for false swearing," Dowlen said.

Dowlen said following Bouyea's testimony, the state's case lacked substantiating testimony from either Sheriff Johnston or his wife, Mrs. Johnston. Johnston died during the noon recess of the court.

Following the noon recess, Penna agreed to enter a plea of guilty to the lesser misdemeanor charge.

Waiting for the "Creative Years" summer camp in Ceta Canyon Methodist Camps to begin Monday, some of those in attendance made friends and renewed old acquaintances. The camp was especially for adults over 60.

Unusual Summer Camp Closes

Hearing about a summer camp, one usually thinks of the kids having fun and being out of their parents' hair. Ending today at Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp, the "Creative Years" camp did not fit this image of a summer camp.

Especially for people older than 60 in the United Methodist Northwest Texas Conference, the camp was attended by about 60 people, including Mrs. Thomas L. Collins, 407 Foster Lane, Canyon First United Methodist Church.

Chances to get away from home, meet other senior citizens, learn new ideas about crafts, worship and recreation and join in general fellowship were the purposes of the four-day camp, said Miss Barbara Sommerville, camp director.

Miss Sommerville was the director when the camp first began, 13 years ago. Playing Monopoly and 42 was part of the unofficial schedule of events, while a Palo Duro picnic, "TEXAS" and an old-time fashion show were on the planned activities list.

Also scheduled were worship in nature settings, stunts, skits, rhythm band entertainment and craft activities. Miss Sommerville said some items for the craft projects were taken from the camp setting, such as bark, plants and rocks.

Other staff members included crafts director, Mrs. Woodrow Adcock, of Amarillo San Jacinto United Methodist; worship experiences director, N.C. Thomas, minister of Christian education at Amarillo Polk Street United Methodist; associate director, Miss Rachel Divers, Lubbock; and the Rev. Ron Hamby, Sweetwater United Methodist Church.

Towns represented at the camp included Midland, Vernon, Hereford, Paducah and Chillicothe.

They are Woody Kent Jones, Benny Richardson, Lynette Slack and Joy Williams.

Clifford Baker of WTSU's student financial aids office said the scholarships were awarded on the basis of the students' scholastic abilities and leadership potential.

Jones of 3205 Linda Lane received a $200 scholarship. Richardson of 1102 8th Ave. received a $250 scholarship. Miss Slack of 801 15th St. and Miss Williams of 2011 2nd Ave. received $200 each.

Woody Earns 2nd Lt. Rank

David R. Woody, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Woody, 2304 6th Ave., was commissioned an Army Second Lieutenant on July 21, upon completion of six weeks of ROTC advanced summer camp at Ft. Riley, Kan.

2nd Lt. David R. Woody. Lt. Woody was enrolled in the ROTC program at West Texas State University, where he learned the skills necessary to command.

A 1967 graduate of Hale Center High School, Lt. Woody received a B.B.A. degree in 1971 from WTSU. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.
